Demographer Report*

Overview of Key Factors Influencing Enrollment

- The district is aging, resulting in fewer school-age children
- Overall District enrollment has declined, especially in elementary grades but is expected to increase K-8 and High School starting in 2029-2030
- Housing development and growth will add residents but fewer students per household
- Enrollment shifts are geographic with some areas growing while others decline
- Boundaries are a key tool to maintain program quality and financial stability

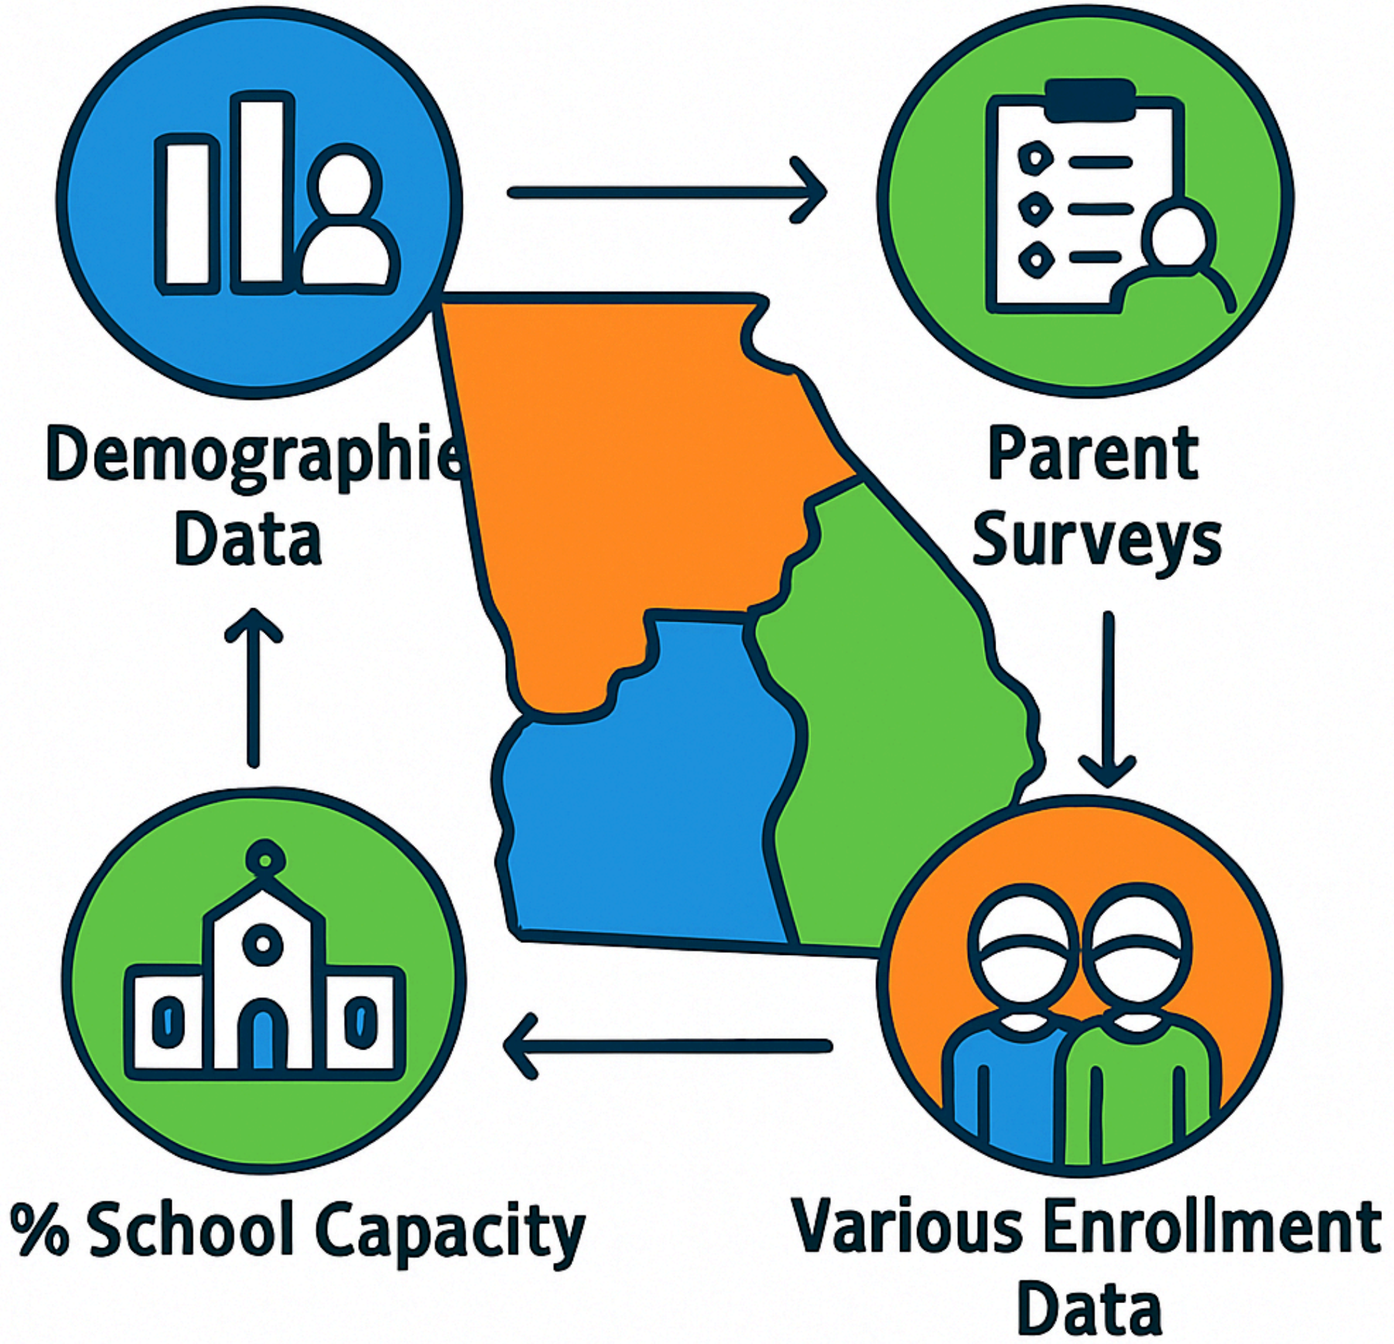

*Demographic Study provided by Applied Economics

Other Data Review

Committee review other types of data

- Demographer report compared to current enrollment (2025-2026)
  - Data was consistent with projections
- Current open enrollment by school including in and out of district
  - Varies by school and follows District policy
- Assessment data by school
  - Found no correlation to school size and assessment results
- Schools with highest and lowest percentage capacity projections and schools that share boundaries with them
- Stakeholder Surveys

Continuing Status

Identified Parent Concern

Open Enrollment - Grandfathering

- Students attending a school when the boundaries change may stay at that school with guaranteed status

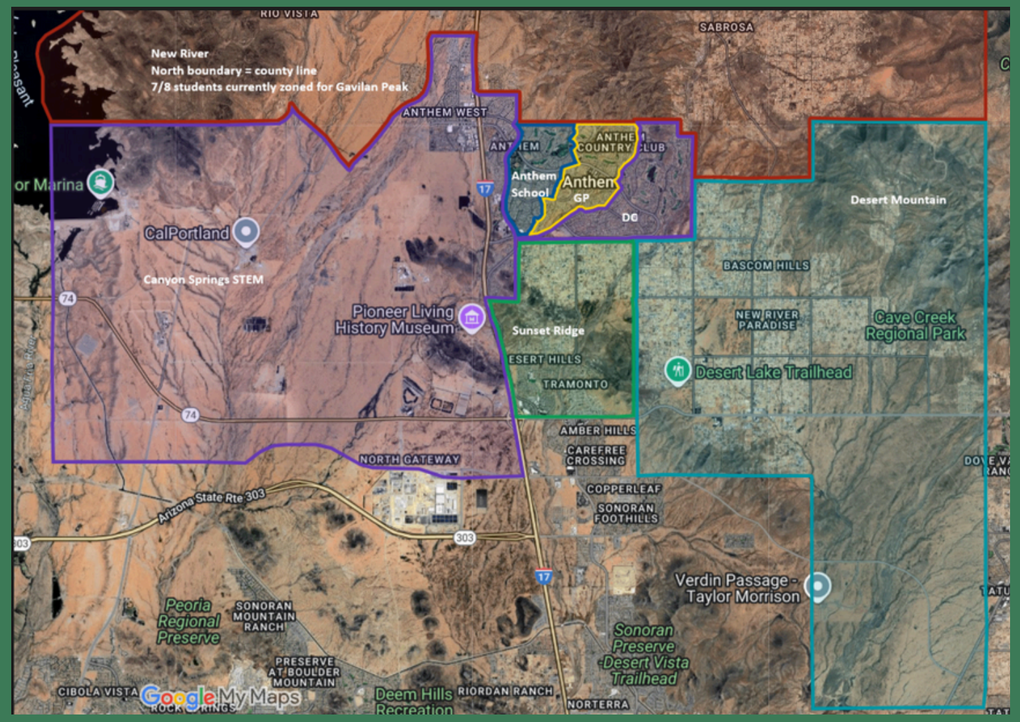

Example, I attend Canyon Springs in 2025-2026 and am rezoned to Anthem in 2026-2027. I am guaranteed ongoing open enrollment status at Canyon Springs until I promote to Boulder Creek High School.

Transportation is not provided for students on open enrollment.

Special education (IEP) status does not affect a student’s ability to remain at the original campus following a boundary change.

Boulder Creek Region

Projected Enrollment

Largest geographic attendance area in DVUSD

6 K-8 schools
1 K-6 school

Projected to decline in enrollment over the next 9 years with most schools projected under 50% capacity in FY2035

Only Desert Mountain and Canyon Springs are expected growth.
