

Rotary Seniors for the Month of December

By Sam Kiernan

The seniors chosen as the Rotary Seniors of the Month were Fiona Reynolds and Sean Latsch. Throughout their high school careers, they showed outstanding hard work and dedication towards their schoolwork, sports, extracurriculars and so much more. The Rotary Club recognized their efforts in this month's meeting.

The first rotary senior of this month is Fiona Reynolds. Fiona is a member of the National Honor Society, National English Honor Society, Tri-M Honor Society, Helping Hands, Ping Pong Club, Oxford Unified Swarm Club, Volleyball, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Swim and Band (concert and symphonic). Fiona is a section leader for the flutes where she oversees and helps all members with learning music, memorizing music, and learning how to march. Fiona has been playing on the Oxford Volleyball team for four years and has been captain of the JV and Varsity, and with her on the team the Varsity team made it to playoffs for the first time in Oxford history. Fiona has also been on the Oxford Varsity Swim team for four years and has been a part of the Jennersville Club Swim team for about 10 years. Fiona is a co-captain for the Oxford team. She is incredibly involved with her church and is an assistant prep teacher, she teaches 6th graders and discusses different lessons about God and life. Not only is Fiona extremely involved in extracurriculars, but she is also doing very well managing her heavy course load this year with many advanced courses. Because of her job, Fiona has found out what she wants to do in her life because she works with kids with adaptive needs. Fiona is going into a Communication Sciences and Disorders to eventually go into Speech and Language Pathology to help children with adaptive needs to be able to communicate their thoughts.

The second rotary senior of this month is Sean Latsch. Sean is a member of the National Honor Society, National English Honor Society, Tri-M Honor Society, Helping Hands, Band (concert and symphonic), Future Business Leaders of America, Marching Band, Academic Team, American Sign Language Club, Choir, Student Forum, and the Musical. Sean is the vice president of National Honor Society, which is focused on advancing knowledge of english literature by volunteering within the community. He is vice president of Future Business Leaders of America where members compete at different levels within categories relating to business, those who do well can advance to higher levels. Sean is also vice president of Helping Hands which focuses on Merovingian the community through community service. Sean is also a section leader for drum line in marching band, where he oversees a large group of kids and helps those within drum line learn how to march and helps them memorize the music for performances.

While managing all the clubs and extracurriculars he is in, he is also doing well in many advanced classes. Sean is going into Chemical Engineering and has had an interest in it since he took honors chemistry as a sophomore. He will be getting a bachelor's in chemical engineering and hopes to go into Pharmaceuticals because he wants to have a direct impact on as many people as possible.
