Dear Southmoreland Community,

As you know, the forecast for this weekend is of some concern and could impact our instructional schedule on Monday, and possibly other days throughout next week. While we hope weather conditions do not interfere with school operations, we want to ensure families are prepared in the event that travel is unsafe.

If weather conditions prevent us from safely opening our buildings, the Southmoreland School District will operate on a Remote Instruction Day. On these days, students will log into their Google Classrooms and participate in instruction with their teachers throughout the school day. Once again, please log in to Google Classroom for further instructions, for attendance, and for a remote schedule.

We will make decisions as early as possible once we are able to assess road and facility conditions and determine whether it is safe for students and staff to travel. Please continue to watch for updates from the district as we monitor this situation closely.

Thank you for your continued support and flexibility.

Sincerely,
