

Sarah Veitch

Bellport High School Class of 2002

Sarah Veitch graduated from Bellport High School in 2002 and earned a Bachelor of Science in Finance and Economics from Manhattan College. Following college, she joined JPMorgan Chase where she spent 18 years building a distinguished career as a Commercial Banker and Market Executive for the Long Island Commercial Banking division.

During her tenure at JPMorgan, Sarah was responsible for leading a team of bankers dedicated to supporting the Long Island business community and strengthening the local economy. Her responsibilities included advisory services and commercial lending solutions to help accelerate growth in businesses who are key employers to the Long Island community.

In 2024, Sarah joined Citizens Financial Group as Market Executive for Middle Market Banking in New York City. In this role, she oversees a team delivering a comprehensive suite of commercial banking and advisory services across a diverse set of industries in all five boroughs. She maintains a passion for building relationships and helping businesses and business leaders reach new levels of success. She is particularly proud of her work supporting emerging-growth and diverse-owned companies.

Sarah previously served on the board of the Long Island Association, an influential chamber of commerce focused on amplifying the business community in Long Island. She also holds Series 79 and 63 investment banking licenses.

While deeply dedicated to her professional work, Sarah's greatest passion is her family. She lives in the community where she grew up with her husband, Martin, and their son, Elliott. When she's not on the baseball field cheering for her son, Sarah enjoys boating on the Great South Bay and spending time on the beaches along Long Island's beautiful Fire Island.
