iGCSE English

4 hours per week are allocated to the teaching of this programme in each of years 10 and 11. All students will take the English language qualification and some the English literature qualification.

The texts that are studied across the two-year programme are Of Mice and Men, An Inspector Calls and Macbeth. We will also be studying poetry that explores identify, war and love from Maya Angelou, Carol Ann Duffy, John Agard, Wilfred Owen and Moniza Alvi and Imtiaz Dhaker. Finally, we will be using short stories from writers such as Liam O' Flaherty and Gabriel Garcia Marquez to embellish our narrative writing module. ICS London prides itself on studying male and female writers from across the globe and stories that cross time periods, to ensure our students have a rich understanding of literature that shapes history and the human experience.
