5th Grade Update

This was a wonderful short week in 5th grade. Thursday, students enjoyed watching our high school band and choir perform in the Brown Center. It was such a meaningful opportunity for our students to see older classmates model confidence, discipline, and a love for the arts. Even with fewer days, students stayed focused and engaged throughout the week.

Academically, we made strong progress across content areas. Students completed a math test, worked on a Key Word Outline (KWO) to support their writing, and took a history quiz. In science, we began an new project on the systems of Earth. Overall, it was a full and productive week, and we are proud of the effort and growth our students showed.

Midwest States and Capitals and "The Road not Taken" recitation will both be due on January 30th. Students have both assignments. Please work with your students on these big assessments.

Thank you for a great Renaissance Day

Thank you so much to all of our parents who helped make Renaissance Day such an incredible success! From setting up and decorating to supporting activities throughout the day, your time, energy, and enthusiasm truly brought our learning to life. The students were fully immersed in the experience, and it wouldn't have been possible without your willingness to jump in and serve our class. We are so grateful for your partnership and for the way you help make these special learning moments memorable for our students.
