

Snapshots of the Week

This week in Buttercups, the children have been learning all about the farm. We began by sharing the story What the Ladybird Heard, which sparked lots of discussion about the different animals you might meet on a farm and the habitats they need to live. The children enjoyed comparing farm animals with jungle animals, thinking carefully about how their habitats differ. Alongside this, we have loved exploring junk modelling, with everyone eagerly having a go and creating some truly fantastic and imaginative creations.

How you can Help Your Child at Home

Supporting your child at home by talking about our current learning helps them practise recalling information, which is a key part of the learning process. Open-ended questions encourage deeper thinking and conversation, such as: I wonder what it's like in the jungle? What animals might live there? or What are sloths like?

Looking Ahead to Next Week

Next week in Buttercups, we will be learning all about the savannah. The children will explore the animals that live there and investigate a variety of animal skins and patterns, helping them to notice similarities, differences and how animals are specially adapted to their environments.
