Continuing Troy Applicants

OK, so we should have read off all of our Troy applicants names from 1:00 until 2:43, including our three sets of twins. Next we'll be getting ready for our schools of choice lottery. So if you'd like to take a break, we'll take about 5 minutes to get reset.

If you'd like to stick around for the schools of choice, you may. Otherwise you are free to go if there's no further information. We'll take a 5 minute break and we'll see you soon.

I can't. I can't. I can't.

All right, everybody, we're going to get started here. As we're waiting, I just want to read off the sibling names for Troy one more time. We were muted online, so I'm just going to take a few seconds here to read off the Troy sibling names in order for those online who may have missed them. And then again, reminder, we'll be emailing all results for Troy and out of county.

To all applicants by the end of the day on Wednesday. So the Troy siblings in alphabetical order one more time.

Remember those are Troy sibling names, so they were at the very beginning. I know we were on mute, so I just wanted to repeat them for you.

Is that a question back there? You just scratch it? That's OK. I'm used to keeping my eyes out for that. Sorry about that. Didn't mean to embarrass you. We are going to read our schools of choice names now, beginning with our siblings. We have 105 total schools of choice applicants.

Siblings

And we have 12 siblings. Our 12 siblings in order are as follows.

- Number one, Mustari Choudhary,

All the way through for 105, we do have one set of twins that will be pulled out at the same time. Our twins numbers stay next to each other. And just another friendly reminder, the next step in this process is signing up for the math assessment, so.
