The Richmond County School System is monitoring the impact of impending inclement weather

(AUGUSTA, GEORGIA) – The Richmond County School System (RCSS) is aware of the possibility of inclement weather in our area this weekend. We are closely monitoring forecasts in collaboration with local emergency management officials and the National Weather Service.

Updates will be shared through the district’s inclement weather landing page at rcboe.org/weatherupdates, the Infinite Campus Parent Portal, social media channels, and local news outlets.

Parents and guardians are encouraged to ensure their contact information is up-to-date in the Parent Portal to receive timely updates. Instructions can be found at rcboe.org/parentportal.
