

Andrew “Bud” and Phyllis Clouse

Bud and Phyllis Clouse’s support of Hopewell-Loudon School spanned well over 40 years. Anytime they could lend their support for any program at Hopewell-Loudon, they were right there. Whether it be feeding hot dogs and chili to the football team, raising money for the athletic department, or raising money to install lights to make the sidewalk to the school safe for pedestrians, you can guarantee, Bud and Phyllis led the march. We owe our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Clouse for being instrumental in initiating the Hopewell-Loudon football program. And Bud was a Chieftain fan right to the end. We will all miss his presence here. Who can forget his “Let’s Go Red” signs, or the Chieftain banner he displayed across Rt. 18 in Bascom, and of course, many of you may remember Phyllis’ famous broom.

Although Bud left Hopewell-Loudon School to join the army, three generations of the Clouse family have attended Hopewell-Loudon School.
