Letter Sound and Letter Name – Keywords

Hello EarlyBird Families!

It is helpful to use a keyword when mapping letter sounds onto letters. As your child goes through the cards, have them point to the letter while saying the name of the letter; then point to the picture, saying the name of the picture and noticing the word begins with the letter sound; and finally have your child point to the dot and say the letter sound. The dot is a placeholder for the sound and will help in your child committing the sound to long term memory.

Below is a list of the letters, keywords, and sounds. These are only the consonant sounds. Vowel sound Alphabet Cards can be found in a separate lesson.
