ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Today's spirit day is Sponsorship Day. If you are dressed head to toe in your favorite brand, make sure to check in at the photo booth during lunch. Today is the LAST chance to earn WACKO points for your class by dressing up. Tomorrow's spirit day is District Day. Dress in your class color for our 48th Annual WACKO Games. Freshmen, wear red. Sophomores, yellow. Juniors, green, and seniors, blue. May the odds be ever in your favor...
- Today is a part of National School Counseling Week. Today's message is about #goals. The definition of goal is, "the object of a person's ambition or effort; an aim or desired result." You can establish goals for every area of your life: as a student, friend, daughter or son, sibling and member of society. Goals can be short term (like dedicating 20 minutes each day to physical exercise to maintain your health and wellness) or long term (like studying and working hard to become an architect). In the words of famed boxer, Muhammad Ali, "What keeps me going is goals." Have you thought about your life goals? Your counselors would love to hear about them. Come by and chat with your counselor! Make today count!
