

FOUR MINUTES

That is the officially allotted amount of time students are given to travel from one class to the next. Four minutes to pack up, say goodbye, navigate crowded hallways, cross the school, and arrive ready to learn. On paper, four minutes sounds reasonable. In reality...

click below for entire article