

Cultivating griefliteracy

on the Cape & Islands

Grief is tough to talk about. Let's start the conversation together to support our littlest grievers.

It's a reality we don't often acknowledge: young children losing people who are close to them.

Grief101: Caring for Bereaved Children is an informative workshop for preschool staff that explores the nature of grief for children from 0-5 years old, common myths and misconceptions, and ways we can support them with compassion and understanding. Together, we'll learn how healing begins when we create spaces of empathy, connection, and hope.
