

Vision Resources

1. Oregon Lions Sight and Hearing Foundation (OLSHF) has The KEX Kids' Program vision program managed by the OLSHF. The KEX Kids Fund is a separate 501c3 that raises the funding for the program. School personnel must complete an application. Contact your school nurse for assistance if you would like to use this resource. There are income guidelines (families must be at 200% or below the federal poverty guidelines), available to review on the website. The student must be uninsured or have used their insurance benefit for the year. A social security card is not required. For more information about the KEX Kids' Fund, you can visit their website: olshf.org/kex
2. Visit www.sightforstudents.org. You can access this resource through your school's nurse. Your child must not have other vision insurance, or the Oregon Health Plan and you or your child must have a valid social security card. There are income guidelines (families must be at 200% or below the federal poverty guidelines), available to review on the website.
3. The Casey Eye Institute at OHSU has a children's clinic called Elks Children's Eye Clinic, located at 545 SW Campus Drive, Portland 97239. They also offer a free Preschool Vision Screening program (more information available at seetoread.net). You can also call 503-494-7830 for information. Income restrictions apply. Financial assistance is available for families that qualify.
4. Pacific University has four Family Vision Centers:
