CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS

OUR MISSION AND VISION

It is the mission of Heights Christian Schools (HCS) to lead children and their families into a relationship with Jesus Christ, equipping them in heart and mind to influence the world for Jesus Christ. Centered on Christ, focused on all students and rooted in partnerships with parents, it is our vision that all students will know Christ personally, excel academically, think biblically, and positively impact their communities for Christ.

HCS strives to be the standard of excellence in education for students of all learning abilities, teaching from a distinct Biblical worldview. To this end, HCS does not accept any direct federal funds. This protects us from being mandated to implement policies and procedures that conflict with our values. Therefore, all operating expenses for Heights Christian Schools are funded entirely by tuition and fees. There is strength in our structure, and with multiple campuses we often realize a proportionate savings in cost. This helps keep us healthy financially and allows us to continue to add valuable programming throughout our schools. We praise God for His ongoing provision.

When it comes to your child's education, parents have choices. Every parent wants the absolute best for their child. HCS is one of the only private school systems in our region. With five campuses located in three counties, we can often pool our resources and leverage services, activities and other opportunities resulting in our ability to offer students and families more. Families benefit from the stability and diverse offerings of a large school system, while their students enjoy a safe, nurturing, small school environment. It's the best of both worlds! And, HCS, is not burdened with the bureaucracy that entangles the public-school sector. HCS is committed to its mission, vision and core values with an uncompromising pledge to meeting the needs of every student.

Our commitment goes beyond the classroom, creating a collaborative community where family values are not just respected, but celebrated as the foundation of meaningful education.

RETURN ON YOUR INVESTMENT

As a private school system, HCS has learned to leverage multiple campuses to our advantage, and has successfully implemented programs, curriculum, and policies that are in keeping with our beliefs while keeping costs as low as possible. Over the years, changes in wage laws, the rising cost of health care, and requirements for business owners in California have presented challenges to our financial model and continues to drive our tuition increases. However, all monies received are always used to advance our mission and vision. HCS remains fully committed to funding programs needed for special populations and tuition assistance, ensuring that students' needs are always top priority.

OPERATIONAL EXPENSES
Includes rent, facility repairs and maintenance, insurances and licensing, curriculum and materials

NET INCOME
to be reinvested in HCS operations and opportunities

SALARIES & BENEFITS
2025 Average Salaries:
Preschool Teacher: $42,000
K-8 Teacher: $52,000

Currently, salaries represent 65% of our annual budget. Operating expenses are about 33% with our goal each year of a 1-2% net income. The majority of costs cover salaries, and still, our highly qualified faculty and staff earn significantly less than their public school contemporaries. We are actively looking to increase salaries so that we can continue to attract and retain the best of the best! Your children deserve nothing less.

When considering where tuition income is being spent, every dollar collected is used to support the schools and to reinvest into the ministry to ensure our ability to adapt, afford, support, renew, and scale into the future. Our goal is to create and preserve sustainable ministry impact into the future, while keeping tuition fees as low as possible.

A GIFT OF HOPE

THE DUNN FAMILY STORY

For Amy Dunn, the phone call from Marcella in the main office started simply: a question about re-enrollment. But what unfolded that day would become a turning point for the entire Dunn family.

After a decade of dedication to their children's Christian education across three Heights campuses — Brea, Bluefield, and Oxford — the Dunns had reached a breaking point. Years of financial pressures had taken their toll, and the family felt they had no choice but to step away from Heights.

What came next took Amy by surprise. "Why didn't you call us? Why didn't you reach out for help?" Marcella asked. "That's why we're here. If nothing else, let us come alongside you and pray for you."

"It brought us hope," Amy reflects, "and hope is a really scary thing to lose."

A MOMENT OF GRATITUDE

When the call came that the family had received a scholarship, Amy broke down in tears. She immediately called her husband at work: "We got the scholarship." His response: "No way."

"It was just this moment of like, we can breathe," Amy remembers.

The scholarship has been transformative for their daughter Mackenna, who has flourished in the Heights theater program. "Heights has brought Mackenna from this little shy girl into this beautiful, strong woman who has learned who she is through Christ," Amy says. "She feels loved and she feels confident."

To the donors who made this scholarship possible, Amy's message is clear: "You are fulfilling a calling because for us it was life changing. Life can get really dark and you feel like God's kind of abandoned you. And then he shows up in spectacular ways, in moments that you never thought he would come. And that's exactly what he did through these donors."

The scholarship represents hope restored, a family's faith renewed, and a daughter's future secured.

"I really encourage people to do whatever it is that they can," Amy says, "because it can make all the difference in somebody's life and their children's life."

HEIGHTS HERITAGE

IMPACT BEYOND OUR WALLS

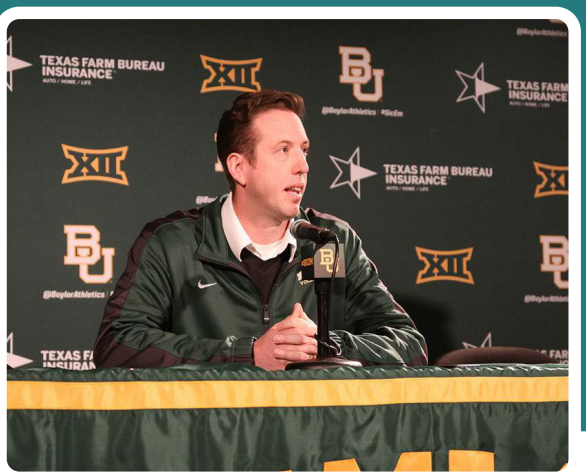

At Heights Christian Schools, we believe the influence of a Christ-centered education doesn't stop at graduation or even at our campus gates. Sometimes, its impact shows up decades later, in places and platforms far beyond what anyone could have imagined.

That is the story of Ryan McGuyre, Head Volleyball Coach at Baylor University.

Coach Winger often reminded his athletes of a simple but profound truth:

God is the Head of your life. His playbook is the Bible, and within it lies the ultimate Game Plan for life.

Those lessons didn't fade when the season ended, they took root.

Ryan's life was deeply shaped by long-time Heights educator and coach Bob Winger, whose ministry and leadership have been woven into the fabric of the Heights community for decades. As a junior high student, Ryan played flag football under Coach Winger during Bob's time at Brethren Christian; a formative season where faith, character, and purpose were intentionally built into the game.

Coach Winger often reminded his athletes of a simple but profound truth: God is the Head Coach of your life. His playbook is the Bible, and within it lies the ultimate Game Plan for Life. Those lessons didn't fade when the season ended, they took root.

Years later, Ryan would go on to be named the 2019 NCAA National Coach of the Year, and when reflecting on the journey that led him there, he publicly credited Coach Bob Winger as one of the most influential coaches in his life.

In a powerful testimony, Ryan shared how the mentorship and faith foundation he received as a young athlete shaped not only his coaching philosophy, but his global ministry:

> "We are victorious when we apply His timeless principles to our lives. Deeply embedded in God's game plan is the Gospel and the good news of salvation through Jesus Christ. Bob has inspired me to share the Gospel on athletic teams in China, Thailand, Ireland, Scotland, Brazil, Russia, Belize, Costa Rica, and the Dominican Republic."

Ryan's story is a living picture of the Heights journey and how God uses faithful educators, Christ-centered mentorship, and intentional discipleship to shape students from a young age and send them into the world with purpose.

This is the legacy of Heights Christian Schools made possible through the partnership of families, supporters, and a community committed to forming the next generation; not just for today, but for the next 50 years and beyond.
