Anderson Island Elementary

February 13, 2026

Good afternoon Eagle Families,

It was a great (and short!) week here at AIE. Even with fewer days, our Eagles showed up ready to work, take care of each other, and stay Anchored in Excellence. I'm proud of the focus and positive energy we saw all week.

Our Read-A-Thon is going strong! Keep encouraging your readers at home — we only have two more weeks to go after this week wraps up. Let's finish strong and keep those minutes climbing.

Students are also working on writing a fairy tale this month. They brought in their characters, aka stuffed animals. They will use their STEAM skills to build backgrounds and the digital cameras to illustrate their stories—a big thank you to Kiwanis for supplying STEAM materials through grants. We appreciate all recyclable items donated by our community. Plastic bottle tops have really come in handy!

Just a reminder — there is no school tomorrow and no school on Monday in observance of Presidents' Day. We hope everyone enjoys the long weekend.

Next week is shaping up to be a fun one. We'll have STEAM on Tuesday, which is always a highlight, and we'll practice safety procedures with an Earthquake Drill on Thursday.

These drills are an important part of keeping our school community prepared and confident.

Please join us on March 6 for our Read Across America Community Breakfast at 8:30 a.m. At this Title I Event, we will celebrate reading, share students' stories and the backgrounds they built, announce the winners of the Read-A-Thon, and enjoy breakfast together.

As you head into the long weekend, get outside and move a little, get plenty of rest, and keep reading.

See you all next week.

Notes from the Classroom

Mrs. Cunningham

It was a great short week, filled with learning and fun. This week in P.E., we learned about the human body and the importance of keeping our bodies safe with protective gear (helmets, knee pads, elbow pads, etc.). We also created our “friendship boxes” using levers, made friendship cards for everyone, and enjoyed filling everyone’s box with happy notes. Somehow, we also managed to fit in an afternoon in the library and an amazing music class with M.B and Kit.

Next week will be another short week, and we will learn about Presidents’ Day and Chinese New Year! Lots of fun to look forward to!

Upcoming events:

Friday, February 13 - no school

Monday, February 16 - no school/Presidents’ Day
