

A decorative border of various colorful books (red, blue, green, orange, brown) is arranged around the text. Some books are open, showing pages, while others are closed. The books are set against a background of light blue and orange circular shapes.

Our 3rd Cohort of LETRS starts this summer.

This high-quality professional learning provides teachers with “in-depth knowledge and tools that they can use with any reading program.” This course is for educators of students from PK–6th grade.

For more information, call Carol at 6779 or talk to your instructional coach or a teacher in your building who has taken LETRS.

Last day to register is March 13, 2026.

Here is an endorsement from one of our teachers:

“Again, Carol, I want to thank you for making this course available to us. This has been a very beneficial course and is certainly helping me improve my teaching skills! It makes me really take closer looks at and adjust how I am approaching topics/skills. I love it!”
