Analyzing Student Progress & Performance Data

Teachers analyze i-Ready student growth and performance data to identify instructional priorities and form targeted small groups. Aligned i-Ready resources are used to develop instructional plans that support grade-level instruction. A separate session focused on Spanish reading data and instructional supports is available.

Student Data Chats

Teachers explore strategies for engaging students in meaningful conversations about learning data. Tools and resources for conducting student data chats at various points in the school year are reviewed, and participants plan a data chat using the i-Ready Student Data Chats Pack.
