Forsyth County Schools Recognized Among Best Employers

CUMMING, Ga. – Forsyth County Schools has been recognized by Forbes as one of America’s Best Large Employers, ranking fourth in the state of Georgia and 158th in the nation.

The recognition highlights organizations across the country that are evaluated by employees for workplace culture, opportunities for growth, and overall professional experience.

Serving more than 55,000 students across 42 schools, Forsyth County Schools is one of the largest employers in the region. The district is consistently recognized for academic excellence and fostering a culture where employees grow, lead, and thrive.

“Our people are the heart of our success,” said Superintendent Dr. Mitch Young. “This recognition affirms what we already know. When you create environments where educators and staff feel supported and connected, students thrive.”

The district remains focused on cultivating a workplace culture rooted in collaboration, professionalism, and care where educators and staff are empowered to serve with purpose and make a meaningful impact.
