FOLLOW UP STUDY

We followed up with families and graduating seniors to better understand what additional supports could be provided at our secondary school to help students feel more prepared for college and postsecondary success. Through this feedback process, we gained valuable insight into student and family needs, which has allowed us to be more intentional and purposeful in the design of our learning sessions and the resources we provide.

As a result, we have implemented targeted learning sessions focused on college readiness, with two sessions held so far this year. These sessions have been well attended, and accompanying materials and resources have been shared with families to extend learning and support beyond the school setting.
