| FAILING STUDENTS                   | A student who receives, at the end of any grading period, a grade below 70 in any class ( other than an identified advanced class ) may not participate in extracurricular activities for three school weeks. An ineligible student may practice or rehearse.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| REGAINING ELIGIBILITY              | The student regains eligibility after the seven calendar day waiting period has ended following a grading period or the three school weeks evaluation period when the principal and teachers determine that he or she has earned a passing grade (70 or above) in all classes, other than those that are advanced.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| ADVANCED CLASSES                   | Classes identified as advanced by the State Board of Education are listed in the TEA/UIL Side-by-Side. School districts may identify additional advanced courses but must send a list of those additional courses with an affidavit from the superintendent stipulating that the local board of education has approved the listed courses. Eagle Mountain-Saginaw ISD has filed a list that includes all high school advanced courses. By state law, a grade less than 70 in any of the advanced classes does not affect a student's eligibility unless the local district chooses to impose other standards. Eagle Mountain-Saginaw ISD has imposed more stringent standards.                                                                                                                                  |
| ELIGIBILITY WAIVER                 | For eligibility purposes, a student enrolled in an advanced class may request an eligibility waiver as follows: <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. The student cannot have a grade lower than 60 in the advanced class.</li><li>2. The student may not receive a waiver in the same class two consecutive grading periods during a semester.</li><li>3. The student may receive no more than two advanced class waivers per six weeks</li><li>4. The student must complete the waiver application and make an appointment with the principal (or designee). Once the waiver process is complete and approved, a copy of the signed application will be delivered to the appropriate sponsors. Once approved, the student will be allowed to participate in the extracurricular activity.</li></ol> |
| MIDDLE SCHOOL ATHLETIC ELIGIBILITY | In the interest of providing all students equal opportunity for participation and encouraging students to meet academic standards, Eagle Mountain-Saginaw ISD limits students in the 7 th and 8 th grade to two years of athletic eligibility. The years do not have to be consecutive, but students must meet the age requirements established by UIL rules.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
