In attendance: Geoff Morrison, Zachery Martin, Kurt Feigley, Scott Cook, Julie Tadros, SRO Mike Riley, Jennifer Pangborn, Robert Sumpter, Jeff Beaton

▪ Blue Lockdown Button Update (roll out next week)

The discussion focused on several safety initiatives to improve campus and community security.

Martise announced that the blue lockdown buttons will be rolled out next week, after being tested and installed in key locations around the campus. These buttons are designed to quickly secure external doors during emergencies, with access also granted to local police and fire departments. Martise confirmed that approximately 10 buttons are installed across various buildings, including the gym and natatorium.

▪ KHS Safety and Security Ambassadors (High School Students) Platform Development of Program.

Martise and SRO Burke will develop a program for Safety ambassadors to address safety concerns and promote accountability among students, with a launch planned for the spring. Martise and SRO Burke are working on a Safety Ambassadors program to engage high school students in discussions about safety and security. The initiative aims to create a platform for students to voice their concerns while educating them on safety responsibilities. Martise emphasized that the program will not involve students acting as informants but rather as contributors to a safer school environment. He stressed the importance of recruiting a diverse group of safety and security ambassadors and encouraged input from external stakeholders.

▪ Access Badges updated for Glendale Police Department

- Martise provided updates on access badges for the Glendale Police Department, noting that new badges have been issued to prevent damage. Additionally, he mentioned that the exploration of a new alert system, inspired by the Nashville shooting incident, is still ongoing despite some delays.

▪ Open Discussion –

1. Kurt Feigley highlighted issues with snow piling up on the north side of Kwan, making it difficult for pedestrians to access the sidewalk crossing. He recommended that the city clear the snow from Bernice to Curran and also suggested implementing a double-stripe lane on Kwan to address speeding traffic. Toni Cain agreed to advocate for these issues with the city. Kurt Feigley will send photographs of snow and traffic issues to Toni Cain for further discussion with the city regarding snow clearance and traffic safety.

2. Update on Robinson Crosswalk Safety Initiatives

Scott Cook discussed the ongoing efforts regarding the Robinson crosswalk, mentioning a previous meeting with the city where responsibilities were outlined. He highlighted the need for persistence in advocating for the project, as the city is currently observing traffic patterns. Jennifer Pangborn shared her experience with speeding near the school and expressed her willingness to advocate for safety measures.

➤ Ongoing communication with the city regarding traffic safety and crosswalk requests.
