Dr. Delphia Young Honored as a Champion for Change

JONESBORO - Clayton County Public Schools (CCPS) is proud to announce that Dr. Delphia Young, Deputy Superintendent for Teaching and Learning and Strategic Improvement, has been honored as a Champion for Change by the Georgia Commission on Women (GCW) during special ceremonies at the Georgia State Capitol on Tuesday, February 24. One of seven leaders so honored, she is pictured below, second from the left on the front row.

Dr. Young was awarded the Sandra Deal Excellence in Education Award, recognizing her profound impact on Georgia's students and her embodiment of the late First Lady's passion for literacy and learning.

"I heartily commend the Commission on Women for their wisdom in honoring Dr. Young," said Dr. Douglas Hendrix Sr., CCPS Interim Superintendent. "She is a visionary leader whose focused commitment to elevated teacher performance and improved student academic achievement has resonated throughout our district."

About the Georgia Commission on Women

The Georgia Commission on Women is a non-partisan state agency tasked with identifying and addressing the issues affecting women in Georgia. Through education, advocacy, and collaboration, the Commission works to improve the quality of life for women and their families.
