Educational Cost Sharing Grant (ECS)

What is the Education Cost Sharing Grant (ECS)?

The Education Cost Sharing Grant (ECS) is Connecticut's Primary Education Equalization Aid Program. It provides State aid to CT towns and cities to help cover costs of public education for K-12 students.

The ECS Grant is designed to help balance educational funding across wealthy and less wealthy municipalities based on a State formula.

Education Cost Sharing - Formula

Factors that determine ECS State formula:

- Number of Students (adjustments for Special Ed; low income status & multilingual learners)
- Town wealth – measured by property & income levels (State Aid Percentage)
- Foundation Amount / $11,525 per student– State's Estimated Cost of Educating a Student (amount unchanged since 2013)

Waterbury was historically underfunded by more than $60 million in state education aid under the ECS formula. Beginning in FY 2018, the State implemented a 10-year Phase-In Plan to gradually bring cities and towns to their full formula funding levels by FY 2028. In FY 2025 and FY 2026, the State accelerated that phase-in schedule, allowing districts to reach their full formula funding earlier than originally planned. This action was taken in anticipation of the expiration of federal ARP ESSER funds, helping districts avoid a significant fiscal cliff as one-time federal pandemic relief dollars come to an end.

ECS – Foundation Amount

Current State Foundation Amount - $11,525/per student (unchanged since 2013)

- The ECS foundation amount has not been increased since 2013 and has not been adjusted to reflect inflationary costs over the past decade.
- Although the State accelerated the ECS phase-in and brought Waterbury to its full formula funding level, the district remains structurally underfunded.
- The base per-pupil amount does not reflect current economic realities.

Without updating the foundation amount to account for inflation, Waterbury will continue to face structural budget pressure despite technically reaching their maximum formula allocation.

Minimum Budget Requirement (MBR)

- The Minimum Budget Requirement (MBR) is a legal provision that mandates municipalities to budget a minimum amount for education, ensuring that educational expenditures do not decrease below the previous year's budget.
- This requirement aims to prevent municipalities from reducing their local spending on education and using state aid for education as a replacement for local funds.
- Exceptions to the MBR may apply in specific circumstances, such as a decrease in enrollment or other approved reductions.
- Waterbury Public Schools' MBR has been $158,375,000 every year since FY 2016-2017

2026-2027 Budget Mitigation Plan

2026-2027 Budget Mitigation Plan Deficit of $11,800,000

To mitigate the projected budget shortfall — absent any additional state or local funding — we must carefully examine all areas of the budget through a responsible and student-centered lens. Our approach will balance fiscal stewardship with our commitment to maintaining high-quality educational services.

Central Office has begun to pursue a comprehensive mitigation plan to review areas such as, staffing adjustments, hiring freeze on various positions, program priorities, long-term plans, etc.

We will work closely with the Board of Education's Finance Committee and Committee of the Whole throughout this process to ensure transparency, collaboration, and thoughtful decision-making.

Our goal is to close the deficit responsibly while minimizing disruption to students and preserving core academic and support services.
