

Art for the Sky 2026

In March of 2024, Lloyd Road School was awarded a grant for a project called Art for the Sky. Art for the Sky is a unique team-building activity, led by Oregon-based artist and activist Daniel Dancer. Daniel shared his vision with us in a school-wide assembly which culminated in a large, living image of a husky made up of the staff and students at Lloyd Road School. Thanks to the generosity of our PTO, we are able to provide the same experience to our current group of students! Our image for this year will be revealed at a school-wide assembly on Wednesday, April 8th. Please note the following, as our image cannot be created without your help!!

Date of Photo: Thursday, April 9, 2026

(weather-permitting; notification will be shared out if the date changes)

Students must wear their assigned color to school that day for the photo.

See below for your "Art for the Sky" class color!

Please remind students that shirts with solid backs are preferred, or that have minimal designs/writing. Short sleeve, long sleeve, or sweatshirts are fine- Hoodies are preferred. Please plan for weather-appropriate clothing, as the students will be outside for about 30-40 minutes.
