

STATE WRESTLING

Written by Jordan Ross

My cousins are better than your cousins...

Every family has that one thing they brag about a little too much. Some families have doctors. Some have lawyers. Mine? We have state wrestlers. And not just one. Not even two. We've got three. And yes, they're all my cousins — which basically means I'm taking partial credit for moral support and superior genetics...

click below for entire article