COLLEGE PROCESS AT SHOREWOOD

COLLEGE FIT

WHY FIT?
ENGAGEMENT
MATTERS MOST

A good "fit" is a college where a student will be engaged — in class and out — by what the college has to offer.

Fit Over Rankings, Challenge Success 2018

The Gallup-Purdue studies mentioned above show a strong connection between certain forms of engagement in college and future job satisfaction and well-being. They report six key college experiences that have an impact on how fulfilled employees feel at work and whether they are thriving in life after college:

1. TAKING A COURSE with a professor who makes learning exciting.
2. WORKING WITH PROFESSORS who care about students personally.
3. FINDING A MENTOR who encourages students to pursue personal goals.
4. WORKING ON A PROJECT across several semesters.
5. PARTICIPATING IN AN INTERNSHIP that applies classroom learning.
6. BEING ACTIVE IN EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES.

STUDENT PROCESS (look familiar?)

COMMON MISTAKES STUDENTS MAKE

- Skip Reflection & Research
- Narrow too early
- Apply only to very competitive schools
- Apply only to familiar schools
- Choose colleges based on popularity/ perceived prestige rather than fit
- Avoid the $$ aspect
- Don’t tune in to emails/ events

PUT POSITIVELY:

PLAN FOR OPTIONS, KEEP YOUR POWER, and BE AWARE

OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE

Sound like too much?

SKILLS DEVELOPED DURING COLLEGE PREP ARE THE SAME SKILLS THAT LEAD TO COLLEGE SUCCESS

WHAT ABOUT PARENTS/ GUARDIANS?

Balance of tasks varies with each family, BUT

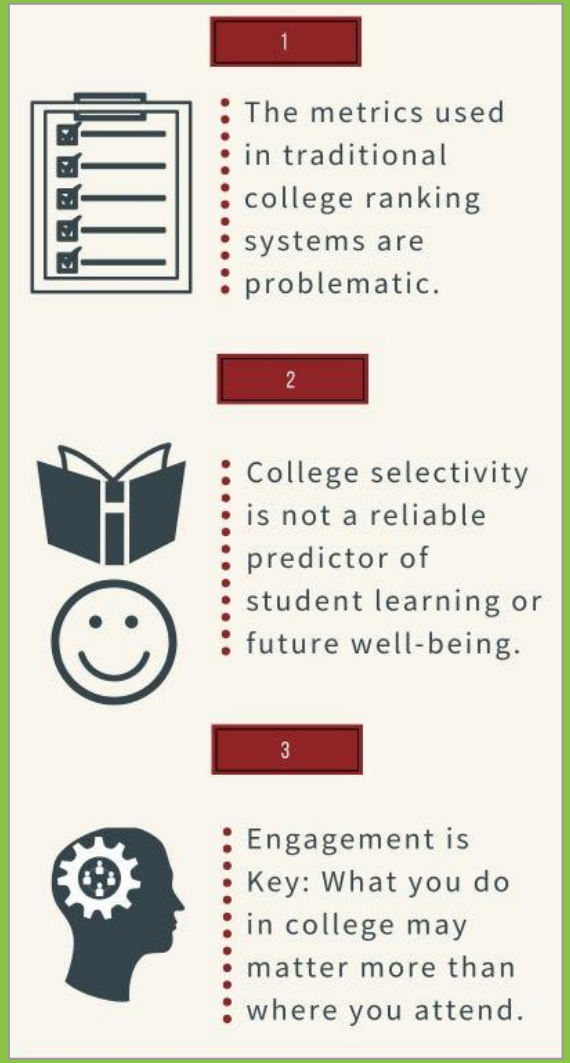

- Parent should not be the director. Ask “How can I help?”
- Every student must develop independence and adulting skills, even if there are missteps
- Colleges expect to communicate with the student
- The student is applying to college, not “we”
- In each application, student attests/ certifies that “all information submitted . . . is my own work” NOT the parent’s work
- If a student cannot handle the process, they are not ready for college

COLLEGE ADMISSIONS MYTHS & TRUTHS

SIDE NOTE ON GPA:

UNWEIGHTED GPA Will not be an issue

- All WA public high schools have unweighted GPAs
- Students indicate type of GPA when they apply
- Colleges recalculate different types of GPAs to a common scale

Rankings create powerful incentives to manipulate data and distort institutional behavior for the sole or primary purpose of inflating one's score. Because the rankings depend heavily on unaudited, self-reported data, there is no way to ensure either the accuracy of the information or the reliability of the resulting rankings. — Colin Diver

Why the U.S. News College Rankings Are Subject to Cheating and How to Fix Them

Here's how the Washington Monthly's annual college guide avoids those pitfalls.

MYTH:
STUDENTS MUST KNOW THEIR INTENDED MAJOR/ CAREER

REALITY:
THERE ARE SOME DIRECT TO MAJOR PROGRAMS BUT MOST STUDENTS CHANGE THEIR ORIGINAL PLAN

Some Majors at Some Colleges are Direct Entry

Meaning you have to apply to the major when you apply to the school

There are three types of majors at the UW — open, minimum requirements and capacity-constrained. Your admission to a major at the UW depends on the major you are interested in and your application type.

Types of majors

Open majors

These majors are open to you when you're admitted to the UW or anytime thereafter.

Majors with minimum requirements

These majors have additional admission requirements. Once you're a UW student and meet the minimum requirements, you can be admitted without further screening.

Capacity-constrained majors

Capacity-constrained majors have additional requirements and selective screening, which may include an additional application process. Completing the minimum UW admission requirements does not guarantee admission to capacity-constrained majors. With the exception of computer science and engineering, you can apply to these majors once you are a UW student.

MOST students change majors while in college

Exploration now can help, but there's no way to know all of the possibilities

Colleges want you to explore there

Shown: about 20% of the majors available at Montana State

FOR MOST CAREERS, YOU DO NOT NEED A NARROWLY DEFINED MAJOR

Data based on graduates of Williams College: shows major on left side of circle and career sector entered on right side.

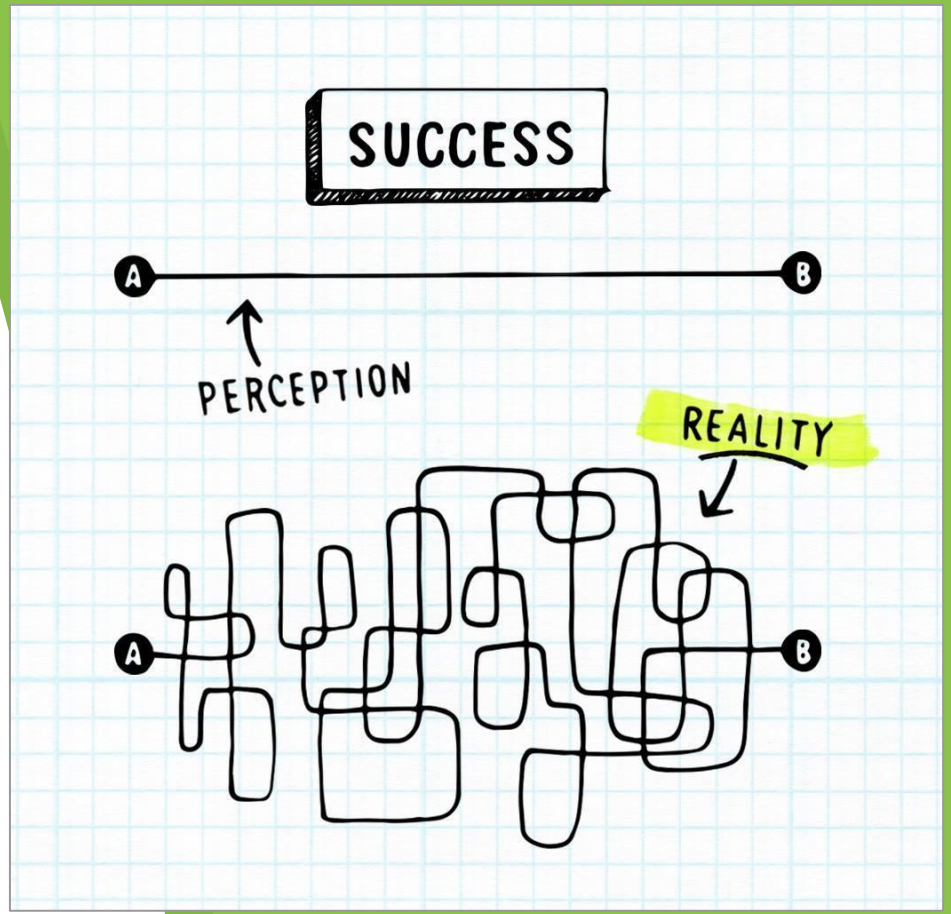

Note the mixed colors (majors) in each industry on the right.

Use the tool yourself on Williams' Visualizing Majors and Careers.

OVERSIMPLIFIED, BUT YOU GET THE IDEA

- We imagine that progress is linear but experiences and knowledge influence next steps.
- Students should be open to possibilities in college

ACT on what you can control

You cannot control how colleges make decisions, set their policies, or who else applies, but you can control:

- When you start the process
- Scope of your reflection & research
- What you prioritize in your search
- How you do in your classes
- Which activities you pursue & what you do with your time
- Which colleges are on your application list
- Your application: essay, descriptions, approach
