DIRECTORS NOTES

REGINA WHITE DIRECTOR

The incredible part of creating theatrical stories is the amount of collaboration it takes. When You're a Good Man Charlie Brown premiered, John Gordon was credited with the book of the show, but actually John Gordon is a collective pseudonym that included composer Clark Gesner, the cast members, and the production staff who wrote the script collaboratively. Similarly, the Spring musical would not be possible without the collective team of the directors, cast members, and production crew in the Performing Arts department here at Freedom High School. We are excited to welcome the new band director Mr. Russell, who put together an orchestra pit entirely made up of Freedom band students. Mr. Souza has worked tirelessly on the vocals, Mr. Sierra has led the students in building, lighting, and sound, Mrs. Keyburn has brought the cartoon characters to life with her costume design, and Ms. Lauren, assistant director, makes sure it all comes together. The students have put so much into this heart-warming show. The Peanuts characters balance childlike wonder with adult anxieties, reminding us of simpler times while speaking to the questions we have as we try to become adults.

Lauren had such a great time working with all the students on this production, they brought such great energy and attitudes and made every second enjoyable! She's so excited for you to see all the hard work that they have been doing and hopes you enjoy it! To all the students, "In the book of life, the answers aren't in the back" - Charlie Brown

LAUREN KNIGHT
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

ELI SOUZA
VOCAL DIRECTOR

Mr. Souza has been Freedom High School's Choral Director for the past 25 years. He also teaches Freedom's piano classes and is Chairperson of the Visual and Performing Arts Department. Mr. Souza has served as an Induction Mentor to new teachers to the district and has been named Teacher of the Year. He has also directed The Brentwood Community Chorus. Mr. Souza received his bachelor's degree in music education from The Conservatory of Music at The University of the Pacific, and his master's degree in Vocal Performance from The University of Arizona. He lives in Oakley with his wife and three children.

DIRECTORS NOTES

JOHN SIERRA
TECHNICAL DIRECTOR

While this production is considerably smaller in scale than previous productions, it has given our students an opportunity to take over the roles of lead designers, builders, and painters. It's been an interesting process to see how they work together and share their creativity. This will be the last major production for a few of our seniors (notably Kaleb, Brooklyn, and Iris) who have been so dedicated to technical theater since freshman year. Thank you for being an inspiration to the next generation!

Ms. Reyburn would like to thank the brilliant cast and crew for their amazing work on this and every production. It's an honor to work with such creative students.

SIERRA REYBURN
COSTUME DIRECTOR

KAITE GUILBEAUX
CHOREOGRAPHER

Katie is excited to be back choreographing her third musical with FHS! She is proud of the Centre Stage students and expresses her gratitude for the Freedom staff. You can catch her alongside other Centre Stage alumni in Ghostlight Theatre Ensemble's Festival 10 in Brentwood on March 27-29.

Ephraim Russell is the instrumental music director at Freedom High School, teaching band, percussion, jazz, and orchestra. He holds degrees in Instrumental Music and P-12 Education from the University of North Alabama and has taught music at the K-12 level in both Alabama and California. He is an active member of NAFME and NCBA, and an alumni member of Tau Beta Sigma and Alpha Mu Lambda. Outside of music, he enjoys cooking, traveling, and spending time with his husband and their pets.
