

The Rhonda Lynn Scholarship

The Rhonda Lynn Scholarship was created in honor of Jacob Davis's grandmother, a woman whose strength, compassion, and unwavering support shaped his life. Despite facing stage four cancer, Rhonda Lynn continued to be a true parent and a source of stability and love.

This scholarship is supported through the sale of custom, hand-sewn Hispanic-inspired jackets created in celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month, with proceeds reinvested into the culture and community connected to this work.

The award is open to students of Hispanic descent pursuing any educational path and recognizes those who show resilience, integrity, and a commitment to their future. Qualities that reflect Rhonda Lynn's legacy.

The scholarship criteria and application requirements are as follow:

- Student being of Hispanic Heritage
- Have a minimum GPA of 2.0
- Proof of enrollment at a trade school, junior college, technical program, or university
- Demonstrate personal resilience, community involvement, creativity, or a strong sense of purpose
- Submit a short essay (300-600 words) about a challenge that shaped you into who you are
