A weekly, trunkated note from Dr. B

The Bronstein Brief

Happy Friday, Somers!

Thank you all for your patience over the past week as we worked through the updated plan for emergency closings. As was shared earlier this week, due to the use of another emergency closing day on Tuesday, we will move Tuesday, May 26 to an instructional day for all students instead of the previously scheduled Professional Learning Day.

For more information, please click on this link to refer to my family and community-wide communication on March 2nd about our emergency closing days and the status of our school calendar.

Around the District

This week, Primrose Junior Officers Mia and Matthew Jackson got an inside look at how Officer Pavletich and our School Resource Officers work every day to keep our school community safe!

From exploring the patrol car to learning how safety checks are done around the building, they experienced firsthand what it means to serve and protect.

Way to go, Mia and Matthew, thank you for stepping up and doing your part to help keep Primrose safe!

Tusker Pride

Congratulations to Somers Track & Field Senior Charles Sullivan who has been named The Journal News' Con Edison Student Athlete of the Week!

Tusker Tidbits

As part of our celebration of Read Across America, SIS students and staff participated in Drop Everything And Read (DEAR), taking 30 minutes out of the day to grab a good book and get lost in a story.

From classrooms to hallways - even in the gym - everyone stopped what they were doing, opened a book, and joined together in celebrating the joy of reading.

Moments like these remind us that reading can take you anywhere, no plane ticket required! 🌍

'Tails' of Triumph

SMS physical education classes are currently participating in an exciting floor hockey unit that combines skill development, teamwork, and nonstop movement. Throughout the unit, students work cooperatively with a variety of teammates in each class, learning to communicate effectively and adapt to different playing styles. They are gaining hands-on experience applying both offensive and defensive strategies in fast-paced game situations, enhancing their understanding of teamwork and gameplay. Most importantly, the high-energy nature of floor hockey keeps students active and engaged, raising their heart rates while having a great time competing with their peers.
