

World Literature: Truth

Stage 1 Desired Results
ESTABLISHED GOALS: Competencies: - Students will demonstrate the ability to recognize and analyze how literary elements interact to shape and refine the narrative in order to compare the approaches different authors take. - Students will demonstrate the ability to communicate information making important connections and distinctions among relevant and sufficient facts in order to share new knowledge. - Students will demonstrate the ability to narrate a story by establishing one or multiple point(s) of view in order to develop real or imagined experiences. - Students will demonstrate the ability to speak purposefully and effectively by strategically making decisions about content, language use, and discourse style. Content Standards: - RL.9-10.1 Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text. - RL.9-10.2 Determine a theme or central idea of a text and analyze in detail its development over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped and refined by specific details; provide an objective summary of the text. - RL.9-10.3 Analyze how complex characters (e.g., those with multiple or conflicting motivations) develop over the course of a text; interact with other characters, and advance the plot or develop the theme. - RL.9-10.4 Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the cumulative impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone (e.g., how the language evokes a sense of time and place; how it sets a formal or informal tone). - RL.9-10.5 Analyze how an author's choices concerning how to structure a text, order events within it (e.g., parallel plots), and manipulate time (e.g., pacing, flashbacks) create such effects as mystery, tension, or surprise. - RL.9-10.6 Analyze a particular point of view or cultural experience reflected in a work of literature from outside the United States, drawing on a wide reading of world literature. - RL.9-10.7 Analyze the representation of a subject or a key scene in two different artistic mediums, including what is emphasized or absent in each treatment (e.g., Auden's "Musée des Beaux Arts" and Breughel's Landscape with the Fall of Icarus). - RL.9-10.9 Analyze how an author draws on and transforms source material in a specific work (e.g., how Shakespeare treats a theme or topic from Ovid or the Bible or how a later author draws on a play by Shakespeare).	Transfer
	Students will be able to independently use their learning to make meaning of text in order to examine human nature and society.
	Meaning
	ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS Students will understand that... - effective readers use a variety of strategies to make sense of key ideas and details presented in a text. - analyzing texts for structure, purpose, and viewpoint allows a reader to gain insight and strengthen understanding. - to gain keener insight into the integration of knowledge and ideas, effective readers analyze and evaluate content, reasoning, and claims in diverse formats. - producing clear ideas as a writer involves selecting appropriate style and structure for an audience and is strengthened through revision and technology. - writing should be purposefully focused, detailed, organized, and sequenced in a way that clearly communicates the ideas to the reader.	ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS - What is truth? - How do people find truth and/or enlightenment?
	Acquisition
	Students will know... - that an archetype is a pattern (like a type of character or type of story) that is repeated in literature. - that the hero's journey is one of the oldest archetypes on the planet and is a metaphor for life itself. - that the purpose of the hero's journey is for the hero to become enlightened, meaning that he/she has been changed in some way as a result. - that mythology formed the pattern for world literature. - that multiple truths exist. - that stories help to define a culture, its people, and significant events.	Students will be skilled at... - citing strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of a literary text. - evaluating and weighing complex ideas, textual details, and motifs in order to arrive at conclusions about the meaning and/or significance of literary texts. - providing a sufficiently complex summary to address key plot points and thematic development. - evaluating whether a summary is missing critical details or misrepresents the meaning of a text. inferring the themes of a literary text and analyzing how they are shaped and refined, including how characters and word choices affect their development.

- RI.9-10.1 Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
- RI.9-10.2 Determine a central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped and refined by specific details; provide an objective summary of the text.
- W.9-10.2 Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.
- W.9-10.3 Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.
- W.9-10.4 Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
- W.9-10.5 Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience.
- W.9-10.6 Use technology, including the Internet, to produce, publish, and update individual or shared writing products, taking advantage of technology's capacity to link to other information and to display information flexibly and dynamically.
- SL.9-10.1 Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grades 9-10 topics, texts, and issues, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.
- SL.9-10.2 Integrate multiple sources of information presented in diverse media or formats (e.g., visually, quantitatively, orally) evaluating the credibility and accuracy of each source.
- SL.9-10.3 Evaluate a speaker's point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, identifying any fallacious reasoning or exaggerated or distorted evidence.
- SL.9-10.4 Present information, findings, and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically such that listeners can follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development, substance, and style are appropriate to purpose, audience, and task.
- SL.9-10.5 Make strategic use of digital media (e.g., textual, graphical, audio, visual, and interactive elements) in presentations to enhance understanding of findings, reasoning, and evidence and to add interest.
- SL.9-10.6 Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and tasks, demonstrating command of formal English when indicated or appropriate.
- RL.9-10.10 By the end of grade 10, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems, at the high end of the grades 9-10 text complexity band independently and proficiently.
- RI.9-10.10 By the end of grade 10, read and comprehend literary nonfiction at the high end of the grades 9-10 text complexity band independently and proficiently.
- W.9-10.10 Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences.

- analyzing the development of complex characters over the course of the narrative and how they influence the narrative (e.g., advance the plot or refine the theme; interact with other characters).
- analyzing crucial moments in the plot (e.g., complication, climax, sea change) and explain how they advance the plot or develop the theme).
- evaluating the impact of setting on the meaning of text (e.g., how does the political or social context of the setting affect the plot or theme?).
- applying appropriate strategies with greater sophistication, including a broad array of context clues, such as word relationships and connectives, a variety of general or specialized reference material, and knowledge of etymology, to determine or clarify the precise meanings of general academic words and phrases in grade-appropriate literary texts.
- analyzing the cumulative impact of connotative meaning on a literary passage's meaning and tone.
- analyzing the cumulative impact of specific word choices and figurative language including how language creates imagery, establishes mood and tone, evokes a sense of time and place, and advances the author's theme or purpose.
- analyzing the effects of the author's choices in telling and timing of a story (e.g., devices such as foreshadowing, flashback, and parallel plots).
- analyzing how an author's structural choices create and enhance effects such as suspense, tension, mystery, or surprise (e.g., the volta in a sonnet).
- analyzing how the author develops the narrator's point of view, and how the author's choices about point of view affect a text's meaning (e.g. use of persona, unreliable narrator, multiple narrators).
- analyzing how the cultural perspective reflected in a work of literature from outside the United States shapes the text.
- analyzing the representation of a subject, event, key scene, or story in two different mediums, describing the significance of what is emphasized or absent in each treatment.
- comparing and contrasting two interpretations of a story, poem, or drama (e.g., a live production of
