FROM THE EDITOR

This month, we are sharing our students whose work has been sent to the Phillips Mill Youth Art Exhibition. Each year, Phillips Mill opens its gallery to students throughout the area to participate in a beautiful show. Historically, Phillips' Mill was the meeting place for the Pennsylvania Impressionists, artists such as Daniel Garber, Edward Redfield, Fern Coppedge, and William Lathrop. You might recognize the last name, as William was the father of our founder, Julian Lathrop.

We continue to share the creativity of our students. Painting and drawing students started the trimester with a drawing that utilized wire, creating a sculptural effect. Kim Burnfield, Photo 2, shares her work from a trip to Arizona. Our featured AP art student is Olivia Smith. Enjoy a view into the Ceramics classroom. And finally, we always love to share the work of our Foundations of Art students who are new to our program! Enjoy!
