

The D. C. Jaeger Corporation is a 3rd-generation, Florida-based company that provides schools & colleges in Florida with training equipment and online curriculum content that enable students and incumbent workers to learn technical job skills and earn industry certifications. We provide solutions for advanced manufacturing, machining, robotics, skilled trades, and more. Our technical services team assists your instructors with on-site installation, professional development, and after-sales customer service.