Gifted and Talented Program

Nominations 2025-2026

We are in the beginning process of identifying new GT students to participate in the Gifted and Talented program for the school year of 2026-2027. Please review the list of characteristics of a GT child and help us determine if your child should be nominated for the program. Teachers will also be submitting nominations for students to be evaluated for the GT program.

(Characteristics of a Gifted Child)

- Acquires basic skills and knowledge rapidly
- Perceives more unusual relationships and displays unusual sensitivity to expectations and feeling of others
- Comprehends advanced ideas, concepts, forms generalizations, better at sensing discrepancies, and recognizes implications
- Displays independence and exhibits self-sufficiency
- Formulates superior abstraction
- Displays a keen and unique sense of humor
- Demonstrates intellectual curiosity, demonstrates a stronger need to know
- Is more innovative and imaginative than their peers
- Responds positively to being challenged by intellectual and creative tasks
- Reads widely and intensively with an advanced level of language development.
