Kent State - March 16

The library Women's History Month event has been moved to next week. NEXT Thursday, March 19th, come celebrate Women's History Month in the library during your lunch or study hall as we learn to finger knit and see how--like stitches, progress builds.

Attention staff: The great ceramics giveaway has begun. Any staff member interested in taking home some ceramics pieces our students have made, can come up to room 217 in the Art wing. They are located at a table in the front of the classroom. Decorate your office, classroom, home, garden, or wherever you need a little POP!! Stop in whenever your schedule allows. The table will be set up until next Thursday MArch 19th. Come and get them while you can! They go quickly.

Today's Youth Art Month drawing prompt is "What do you see out a classroom window?"

All the papers to draw and submit are on the table outside the library.
