

About Our Title 1 School

HB Sugg houses our K-2 students and Sam D Bundy houses our 3-5 students. Our school has been an integral part of the Farmville community for many years. As a Title 1 school, we receive federal funds to focus on improving the academic achievement of all students. With this money we purchase materials, equipment, additional staff and provide professional development for teachers. We believe the more our parents are involved with their child's schooling, the higher levels of attendance and achievement. Sugg/Bundy encourages all families to be informed and participate in decisions concerning our school and their children's education.

Recognizing the impact of shared responsibility for student achievement, we ask our families and students to join our staff to make the following pledge:

Our Students Will...

- Work hard in their school assignments
- Talk to their parents about what they are learning in school
- Follow the behavior matrix
- Ask questions when they need help

Our Teachers Will...

- Provide motivating and interesting learning experiences
- Explain expectations, instructional goals and grading systems to student and parents
- Explain our behavior matrix to students and parents and reinforce it in the classroom
- Communicate and cooperate with parents to ensure the best education for our students
- Use techniques and materials that work best for each student

Our Families Will...

- Make attendance a priority for their child
- Talk to their child about school daily
- Reinforce the behavior matrix
- Provide quiet study time and encourage good study habits
- Support literacy by reading with students at home

Our Administrators Will...

- Create a welcoming, safe and orderly environment for students and parents
- Reinforce partnerships between families, students and staff
- Support teachers in the classroom as instructional leaders

Our Goals for Student Achievement

- Eliminate opportunity gaps
- Improve school and district performance
- Foster shared responsibility for student success
