EMCEES

LINDSEY CATELLIER

CHAMPIONSHIP EMCEE

Lindsey Catellier is a 3rd grade teacher at Reagan Elementary in Brownsburg, IN. She has been a proud Bulldog for 20 years. She is a graduate of Plainfield High School where she was an active member of Belles et Beaux, Les Chanteuses, and Concert Choir. Lindsey also enjoyed participating in Madrigals and the Women's Chorus at the University of Southern Indiana. When she is not singing along to her favorite show tunes, she enjoys spending time with her husband and children on the lake or at the beach! Lindsey continues to enjoy being a part of the show choir community and is thrilled to be a part of the Brownsburg Spectacular. Best of luck to all the performers today!

KAYA HILL

FESTIVAL EMCEE

Kaya graduated from Brownsburg High School in2019 and Ball State University in 2022. She studied communication as well as African American Studies and currently works at a small tech company based out of Florida. She loved her time in show choir at Brownsburg and is even more excited to host (and watch) some incredible groups today!

ALLIE PENA

CONCERT EMCEE

Allie Pena is one of the choir directors at Brownsburg East Middle School. She is the director of Moonlight, Brownsburg's middle school show choir. Aside from teaching 500+ students a day, she is a highly regarded vocalist and performer, performing regularly in several local rock and jazz bands and in local musicals. Allie is grateful to be presenting some of the best concert choirs today!

KADENCE CHASTAIN

SOLO EMCEE

Kadence Chastain is a Disney Cruise Line Performer and a Ballroom, Latin, and Musical Theater Dance Instructor at Brownsburg Ballroom Dance Studio. Kadence choreographs and co-directs dance showcases and has choreographed many musicals in the community. She is a Brownsburg High School Alum who performed in Starlight Voices and was the Dance Captain of Spotlight Singers and Company. Kadence is passionate about the performing arts.

Jeff Gemar

Jeff Gemar is a retired music educator who proudly devoted 42 years to inspiring students through choral and instrumental music. A graduate of the University of South Dakota, Jeff earned his BFA in both vocal and instrumental education, followed by a Master's degree in Choral Conducting, also from USD. Throughout his career, Jeff taught at five different schools and founded show choirs at four of them. He is especially proud of helping build powerhouse programs such as Mitchell Friend de Coup and Chatham's Titan Fever, and of leading the award-winning Mt. Zion Swingsations alongside Dwight Jordan. Jeff's performance experiences are as dynamic as his teaching career. He has sung for the LA Clippers, New Jersey Nets, Jesse White, and delivered a deeply meaningful performance at Ground Zero the year after 9/11. Under his direction, Jeff's groups have earned numerous Grand Champion titles, along with countless awards for Best Vocals, Best Choreography, and Best Band. His ensembles have also claimed top honors at FAME, Showstoppers, and Show Choir Nationals. A longtime supporter of arts education, Jeff is a proud clinician for Show Choir Camps of America (SCA)—where three of his own ensembles have performed. Now enjoying retirement, Jeff continues to stay active in the show choir world as a clinician, judge, and enthusiastic supporter of young performers. He loves meeting new people, sharing his passion for music, and celebrating the next generation of singers, dancers, and dreamers.

VOCALS

Scott Hines

Scott Hines is one of four choral directors within Purdue Musical Organizations at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana. He directs Heart&Soul and PMO Express and is the assistant director for the Purdue Varsity Glee Club. Other duties at PMO include directing 5 small ensembles, directing the H&S and Glee Club bands, arranging, accompanying, vocal coaching, choreography and set designing for the annual Purdue Christmas Show. Before his tenure at Purdue, Scott spent 15 years as the director of Eisenhower Elite Energy show choir in Decatur, Illinois.

VOCALS

Tess Tazioli

Tess Tazioli served as the Head Director of Choirs at Fishers High School in Fishers, Indiana, for six years. Under her direction from 2017-2023, ensembles consistently earned Gold ratings at the Indiana State School Music Association and were recognized with "With Distinction" honors. Her show choirs captured numerous Best Vocal, Best Visual, Best Show Design, and Grand Champion titles across the competitive circuit. During her tenure, the choral program experienced significant growth, tripling in student participation and achieving the Indiana Show Choir State Championship title for the first time in both 2022 and 2023. Following her time at Fishers, Tazioli served as the Co-Director of Choirs, including the Entourage and Vivant Show Choirs, at Naperville North High School, where she co-taught Concert Choirs, Music Production, and Vocal Technique for two years. Tazioli earned her Bachelor's degree in Choral Music Education from DePauw University. She currently works in the media industry in downtown Chicago as a Sales Associate in the Broadcast Division at Paramount, where she supports national broadcast advertising initiatives, collaborates with cross-functional teams, and helps develop strategic partnerships across the evolving media landscape.

Sterling Finkbine

VOCALS

Mr. Sterling Finkbine is a choral director, vocal coach, and arts educator currently serving as Director of Vocal Music and Chair of Performing Arts at Cincinnati's School for Creative and Performing Arts (SCPA). He teaches multiple vocal ensembles and musical theatre courses, including Chorale (the school's flagship high school choral ensemble) and Baby Grands, a select 13-voice treble a cappella group. Known for his commitment to excellence and student-centered leadership, Sterling cultivates a high-achieving, inclusive environment where young artists thrive. Before joining SCPA, Sterling spent over a decade as Director of Choral Activities for the Ross Local School District, where he built a nationally respected choral and show choir program. He led Legacy, the high school show choir, to numerous Grand Championship awards, and founded Next Generation, a middle school show choir that quickly gained recognition as one of the Midwest's top middle school ensembles. His choirs have collaborated with and shared the stage with acclaimed artists and organizations, including "Glee's" Tim Davis, JoJo, Norm Lewis, Cody Fry, The Cincinnati Pops Orchestra, May Festival Chorus, and New York Voices, among others. Sterling also stays active in the wider arts community. He currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Cincinnati Boychoir and previously held a board position with the Butler Philharmonic Orchestra. He is a proud member of the American Choral Directors Association (ACDA), National Association for Music Education (NAfME), and the Ohio Music Education Association (OMEA). He holds a Bachelor of Music and a Master's in Educational Leadership from Wright State University. Sterling lives in Cincinnati with his partner, Chris, and their two dogs, Whisky and Pete.

Tim Grino

Tim Grino is a passionate educator and performer whose musical journey spans church music, opera, musical theatre, choral works, oratorio, and jazz. With a BM from Butler University and an MM from Southern Methodist University, Tim Grino has spent nearly 30 years inspiring students in the voice studio and as a freelance choral clinician and adjudicator. Many of Tim Grino's students have gone on to shine on stages across the U.S. and abroad, teach in classrooms at all educational levels, and utilize music as a therapeutic intervention in clinical settings.

Rooted in Brownsburg, IN, Tim Grino brings the same dedication to healthcare, serving as System Nurse Residency Coordinator for IU Health. Whether in music or nursing professional development, Tim Grino finds joy in helping others grow and succeed. He is grateful for the opportunity to align passion with purpose and is excited to support and encourage today's performers.

Rebecca Noot

Mrs. Rebecca Noot, a recipient of the Indianapolis Preludes' Outstanding Arts Educator Award, retired after teaching music and voice for 33 years, including 14 years as Choral Director and Performing Arts Department chair at Franklin Central High School in Indianapolis's Franklin Township. During her tenure, the F.C. Singers began competing, winning many awards as Grand Champions and finalists throughout central Indiana and at various festivals in the eastern United States. She also established the school's first women's choir, "Accents," as well as the Chamber Singers, who presented very successful biannual Christmas madrigal feasts. Mrs. Noot also has taught courses in Choral Conducting, Music History, and High School Choral Methods and private voice lessons at the University of Indianapolis where she earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education and her Master of Arts degree in Vocal Performance. While a graduate student, she performed the lead opera roles of Charlotte in Werther, Suzuki in Madame Butterfly, Orlovsky in Die Fledermaus, and Dorabella in Cosi fan Tutti, as well as Carmen in scenes from Carmen. Her experience also includes recording many radio commercial jingles, as well as directing a church choir and recording an album with a quintet, The 91st Edition, from her church. In addition to her years at Franklin Central, she taught general music and choir in the township's elementary, middle, and intermediate schools, and currently enjoys presenting choral clinics, working with directors in rehearsals, and offering critiques to groups preparing for ISSMA organizational state qualifications, as well as adjudicating invitationals and ISSMA show choir and concert choir contests and festivals every year. Mrs. Noot spends her free time as an interior decorator for friends and family, and planning overseas travels, which she and her husband, Peter, have been enjoying since retirement.

SOLO JUDGE

TJ Bourne

2022 Latin GRAMMY® Award winning album vocalist Thaddaeus Bourne has been praised for his rich baritone (Brooklyn Discovery), his lyrical and touching singing (Parterre Box) and his suave stage presence (Opera News). Originally training as a flutist, he began voice lessons as a means of studying breath support and quickly discovered the joy of making loud noises in foreign languages while playing with swords. He has sung over forty roles performing in the USA, Europe, Africa, and Latin America. His recent work includes Melchior in Amahl and the Night Visitors with Indianapolis Opera, Jesus in Bach's St. John Passion with the Bach Festival Choir of Winter Park, soloist in Schubert's Mass in G Major in Nairobi, Kenya, Conte Almaviva in Mozart's Le nozze di Figaro for the Baroque on Beaver Island Music Festival, and Escamillo in Bizet's Carmen at the Center for Performing Arts in Gainesville, FL as well as recitals and masterclasses for the Rhea Concert Series at Saginaw Valley State University, the Conservatorio Professional de Música Marcos Redondo in Ciudad Real, Spain, Kenyatta University and Technical University of Kenya. Last summer he premiered Traci Mendel's Evening Ponte al Mar in Bogotà, Colombia for the CMS International Conference and presented research on neuroplasticity in vocal training at the International Congress of Voice Teachers in Toronto, Canada with Dr. Brenda Smith. His previous faculty appointments include the University of Florida, Troy University, Butler University, Earlham College, and the University of Connecticut.

SPOTLIGHT SINGERS & CO.

EXHIBITION AT 11:00PM IN THE GYM

At the end of a long, winding road… where the air shimmers with memory and the chandeliers never stop swaying… stands a legendary destination few truly understand. They say Spotlight Singers & Company arrived one twilight and simply never left.

Once the premier show choir of Brownsburg High School in Brownsburg, Indiana, they now seem less like travelers and more like permanent residents of a grand, mysterious hotel — a place where music drifts endlessly through the hallways and every performance feels suspended somewhere between past and present.

These 57 singer/dancers, lost through various times, are accompanied by an 11 members band and 25 member stage crew. They are directed by Chad Strasser and Joe Sato, choreographed by Joe Sato and Cecily Pedregon, solo choreography by Kim, Gracie, & Kadence Chastain, costumed by Randy Lanoue, music arrangements by Eric Van Cleave, technical direction by Bryan Neese, and video designs by Zach Rosing.
