School Board Recognition of CCSD Media Specialist of the Year

Summary Explanation and Background

Kim George at Mill Creek Middle School is the Cherokee County School District's Library Media Specialist of the Year!

All CCSD media specialists were eligible for the award. Ms. George was selected as the winner from a pool of outstanding nominees by a judging committee of retired educators and community leaders.

She was awarded a $500 Visa gift card, plaque and banner, with the costs sponsored by Credit Union of Georgia, a CCSD Partner. Ms. George now advances to represent CCSD in the regional competition, fro

Ms. George earned her education degree from Kennesaw State University and a master's in education degree and library science certification from the University of West Georgia. Her additional school roles include serving on its leadership committee, sponsoring the Tome Club and coaching its reading bowl team, representing faculty on the PTSA committee, and supporting the PTSA Ambassador's Club. Ms. George also is one of four school media specialists selected to serve on the CCSD Media Specialist Leadership Team. Among her numerous honors, she has earned the Cherokee County Council PTA 2024 Visionary Award and been named the River Ridge Zone Media Specialist of the Year.
