

World Language 5: Government, Education, and Healthcare

ESTABLISHED GOALS:

Competencies:

- Students will demonstrate the ability to exchange information, concepts, and ideas with a variety of speakers and/or readers in order to interact with cultural competence and understanding.
- Students will demonstrate the ability to present information, concepts, and ideas to an audience of listeners in order to communicate with cultural competence and understanding.
- Students will demonstrate the ability to present information, concepts, and ideas to an audience of readers in order to communicate with cultural competence and understanding.
- Students will demonstrate the ability to evaluate information from a variety of authentic audio resources in order to connect with diverse cultural perspectives
- Students will demonstrate the ability to evaluate information from a variety of authentic print resources in order to connect with diverse cultural perspectives
- Students will demonstrate the ability to evaluate relationships among products, practices and perspectives in order to compare them across cultures.

Content Standards:

- WRSLL 1.1: interact and negotiate meaning in spoken, signed, or written conversations to share information, reactions, feelings, and opinions.
- WRSLL 1.2: understand, interpret, and analyze what is heard, read, or viewed on a variety of topics.
- WRSLL 1.3: present information, concepts, and ideas to inform, explain, persuade, and narrate on a variety of topics using appropriate media and adapting to various audiences of listeners, readers, or viewers
- WRSLL 2.1: use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on the relationship between the practices and perspectives of the cultures studied.
- WRSLL 2.2: use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on the relationship between the products and perspectives of the cultures studied
- WRSLL 3.1: build, reinforce, and expand their knowledge of other disciplines while using the language to develop critical thinking and to solve problems creatively.
- WRSLL 3.2: access and evaluate information and diverse perspectives that are available through the language and its cultures.
- WRSLL 4.1: use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on

Transfer

*Students will be able to independently use their learning to communicate effectively in the target language with cultural competence and understanding.

Meaning

ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS

Students will understand that...

- language and communication are at the heart of the human experience.
- the perspectives, practices and products of a people define their culture.
- culture and language are interrelated and influence how people behave.
- culture and language evolve and are influenced by people, time and place.
- learning another language enables one to access cultural perspectives that can be lost in translation.
- the study of another language expands one's personal and professional opportunities.
- language is a tool to connect with other people and the world.

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS

- How does education impact quality of life?

Acquisition

Students will know...

- that effective communication involves the integration of multiple verb tenses and moods
- that verbs are conjugated differently in different tenses and moods.
- that speaking, listening, reading and writing skills are developed by using the interpersonal, interpretative and presentational modes of communication.
- that there are cultural norms of etiquette and respect that are used when conversing with others.
- that cultural products and practices are influenced

Students will be skilled at...

- participating with ease and confidence in conversations on familiar topics.
- handling social interactions in everyday situations, sometimes even when there is an unexpected complication.
- talking about events and experiences in various time frames.
- describing people, places, and things:
 - exchanging information relating to areas of mutual interest
 - using the language to do a task that requires multiple steps

the nature of language through comparisons of the language studied and their own. ● WRSLL 4.2: use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on the concept of culture through comparisons of the cultures studied and their own. ● WRSLL 5.1: use the language both within and beyond the classroom to interact and collaborate in their community and the globalized world. ● WRSLL 5.2: set goals and reflect on their progress in using languages for enjoyment, enrichment, and advancement.	by geographical location. ● that views on education and healthcare vary from culture to culture ● that medical care and practices vary from culture to culture. ● that educational beliefs and practices vary from culture to culture. ● that religious beliefs may impact decision making with regard to healthcare and education. ● that laws regarding education and healthcare vary from region to region and country to country. ● that quality of life is impacted by the economic status of a citizen, region, or country. ● that the government plays a major role in determining the quality of education and healthcare of its citizens. ● that the intersection of diverse cultures creates a globalized society. vocabulary: expressions related to healthcare, education, the economy, current laws related to theme, common idiomatic expressions and catch phrases related to unit theme thematic sub-topics and situations: access to healthcare, access to education, comparing educational systems, private vs. public education around the world, governmental role in healthcare and education target region: integrated study of all regions where target language is spoken	○ using the language to handle a situation that may have a complication ● easily understanding the main idea in messages and presentations on a variety of topics related to everyday life and personal interests and studies ● usually understanding a few details of what is overheard in conversations, even when something unexpected is expressed ● sometimes following what is heard about events and experiences in various time frames: ○ easily understanding straightforward information or interactions ○ understanding a few details in ads, announcements, and other simple recordings ○ sometimes understanding situations with complicating factors. ● easily understanding the main idea of texts related to everyday life, personal interests, and studies. ● sometimes following stories and descriptions about events and experiences in various time frames: ○ understanding accounts of personal events or experiences ○ sometimes following short, written instructions when supported by visuals ○ understanding the main idea of and a few supporting facts about famous people and historic events ● making presentations on a wide variety of familiar topics using connected sentences: ○ making a presentation about their personal and social experiences ○ making a presentation on something that has been learned or researched ○ making a presentation about common interests and issues and stating their viewpoint ● writing on topics related to school, work, and community in a generally organized way. ● writing some simple paragraphs about events and experiences in various time frames: ○ writing about school and academic topics ○ writing about work and career topics ○ writing about community topics and events
--	--	--

		○ writing about an entertainment or a social event ● identifying common patterns in the products and practices of cultures: ○ exploring and referencing current and past examples of authentic culture ○ comparing and contrasting some behaviors or practices of other cultures and their own ● comparing familiar cultural beliefs and values: ○ describing some basic cultural viewpoints ○ making some generalizations about a culture ● interacting at a functional level in familiar cultural contexts: ○ handling short interactions with peers and colleagues in familiar situations at school, work, or play ○ recognizing and referring to elements of traditional and pop culture ○ sometimes recognizing when they have caused a cultural misunderstanding and trying to correct it
Content Area Literacy Standards		21st Century Skills
not applicable		● reason effectively ● communicate clearly ● access and evaluate information ● apply technology effectively ● use systems thinking

ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines 2012: Speaking: Intermediate-Mid; Reading, Writing, & Listening: Intermediate-High

Reading	At the Intermediate High sublevel, readers are able to understand fully and with ease short, non-complex texts that convey basic information and deal with personal and social topics to which the reader brings personal interest or knowledge. These readers are also able to understand some connected texts featuring description and narration although there will be occasional gaps in understanding due to a limited knowledge of the vocabulary, structures, and writing conventions of the language.
Writing	Writers at the Intermediate High sublevel are able to meet all practical writing needs of the Intermediate level. Additionally, they can write compositions and simple summaries related to work and/or school experiences. They can narrate and describe in different time frames when writing about everyday events and situations. These narrations and descriptions are often but not always of paragraph length, and they typically contain some evidence of breakdown in one or more features of the Advanced level. For example, these writers may be inconsistent in the use of appropriate major time markers, resulting in a loss of clarity. The vocabulary, grammar, and style of Intermediate High writers essentially correspond to those of the spoken language. Intermediate High writing, even with numerous and perhaps significant errors, is generally comprehensible to natives not used to the writing of non-natives, but there are likely to be gaps in comprehension.
Listening	At the Intermediate High sublevel, listeners are able to understand, with ease and confidence, simple sentence-length speech in basic personal and social contexts. They can derive substantial meaning from some connected texts typically understood by Advanced-level listeners although there often will be gaps in understanding due to a limited knowledge of the vocabulary and structures of the spoken language.
Speaking	Speakers at the Intermediate Mid sublevel are able to handle successfully a variety of uncomplicated communicative tasks in straightforward social situations. Conversation is generally limited to those predictable and concrete exchanges necessary for survival in the target culture. These include personal information related to self, family, home, daily activities, interests and personal preferences, as well as physical and social needs, such as food, shopping, travel, and lodging. Intermediate Mid speakers tend to function reactively, for example, by responding to direct questions or requests for information. However, they are capable of asking a variety of questions when necessary to obtain simple information to satisfy basic needs, such as directions, prices, and services. When called on to perform functions or handle topics at the Advanced level, they provide some information but have difficulty linking ideas, manipulating time and aspect, and using communicative strategies, such as circumlocution. Intermediate Mid speakers are able to express personal meaning by creating with the language, in part by combining and recombining known elements and conversational input to produce responses typically consisting of sentences and strings of sentences. Their speech may contain pauses, reformulations, and self-corrections as they search for adequate vocabulary and appropriate language forms to express themselves. In spite of the limitations in their vocabulary and/or pronunciation and/or grammar and/or syntax, Intermediate Mid speakers are generally understood by sympathetic interlocutors accustomed to dealing with non-natives. Overall, Intermediate Mid speakers are at ease when performing Intermediate-level tasks and do so with significant quantity and quality of Intermediate-level language.

Evaluative Criteria

Assessment Evidence

	PERFORMANCE TASK(S):
	OTHER EVIDENCE:

Summary of Key Learning Events and Instruction
Language Arts Integration	Mathematics Integration
1.OA.1 Use	1.OA.1 Use
Technology Integration	District Materials
1.OA.1 Use	