Though money was tough to come by, we have created a masterpiece. This yearbook has everything, great photographs, great captions, and great lay-outs. We feel sorry for the poor souls who did not have enough sense to shell out the bucks for this spectacular memoir. But, for you, the lucky one, we have compiled an outstanding composite of 1983 events.

Enjoy,
Lori, Brenda,
Toni

JOURNALISM

Take seven students, one advisor, the smallest, coldest room in the building, six typewriters and add them all together. What you'll end up with is the journalism staff of 1982-83.

In order to get our work done, we have to become grammar experts, interpreters, and hall gypsies.

Writing a newspaper that meets with the approval of the students, faculty, and parents is no easy task, but we certainly gave it our best shot.

F.H.A.

F.H.A. stands for Future Homemakers of America. It is not just for females. We have brought it into the classroom to incorporate males into the organization. F.H.A. is responsible for some community projects that have helped many people. For example, our local chapter re-decorated our teachers lounge. Our local chapter members have made many new friends and also renewed old friendships.
