Legal Doesn't Mean Safe: The Rise of Gas Station Drugs

TUESDAY, APRIL 14TH, 2026
10AM-11AM | VIRTUAL

Often marketed as supplements, herbal products or “legal highs;” gas station drugs pose a growing threat to public health and community safety. Sold openly yet largely unregulated, these substances can have unpredictable and dangerous effects, particularly for youth. This session will provide attendees with an overview of current gas station drug trends, their risks, and policy gaps that allow them to remain accessible. Participants will explore real-world community-responses, learn practical strategies for raising awareness, and discuss opportunities for advocacy and collaboration to address this emerging challenge.
