

The world needs great women... it starts at The Study. Founded in 1915, The Study is one of Canada's leading independent girls' schools, offering a rich bilingual program to over 380 students from Kindergarten to Grade 11.

CANDIDATE POOL – ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STUDENT SUPPORT AND COUNSELLING SPECIALISTS (PART-TIME)

As we continue to grow and strengthen our student support structures, we are building a candidate pool of Elementary student support and counselling specialists interested in contributing to a caring, dynamic, and forward-thinking school environment. Individuals in this role work closely with teachers, students, families, and contribute to the broader school community.

Qualifications, skills and attributes

- University training in psychology, psychoeducation, social work, education, or another field related to supporting children. Graduate specialization in counselling or social-emotional development is considered an asset.
- Excellent communication skills in both French and English
- Strong interest in student social-emotional development
- Experience in an elementary school setting (strong asset)
- Excellent interpersonal skills and collaborative mindset
- Understanding of girls' development and needs
- Sound professional judgment and discretion
- Flexibility and adaptability in a dynamic environment
- Commitment to ongoing professional growth

Role and contributions

- Collaborating with teachers to support students' social and emotional development
- Designing and implementing proactive, strengths-based strategies and interventions
- Leading classroom and small-group activities that are engaging and age-appropriate
- Supporting students in building healthy relationships and conflict resolution skills
- Contributing to a positive school climate, including during unstructured times
- Communicating with families and liaising with external professionals when needed
- Supporting staff through shared practices and professional learning opportunities

If you are interested in joining a vibrant and caring school community, we would be delighted to hear from you. Please send your letter of interest and résumé to: careers@thestudy.qc.ca

We thank all candidates for their interest. Only those selected for an interview will be contacted.