Boston is also recognized for its significant role in higher education, the bustling Faneuil Hall Marketplace, and a diverse culinary scene, especially its iconic baked beans.

- We will be traveling via chartered bus and staying 3 nights at the Embassy Suites by Hilton Boston Marlborough with four students per room.

- Treat bags will be provided with a bottle of water and snacks.

- Students will pay for their own lunches, except for the last day.

FROM YOUR DIRECTORS

Band and Chorus Students:

We are now ready to begin our tour to Boston; as much hard work has gone into the preparation of this excursion. Many people have contributed to this event, and we are their representatives. Our school, as well as the community of Clarence, will be represented by our personal behavior. High standards are expected of each of you, and it is our obligation to fulfill this trust. Always remember: FUTURE TOURS DEPEND DIRECTLY ON YOU; your attitude and your conduct. If you follow this tour handbook exactly, especially regarding the time schedule, dress code, and the rules, we will not experience any difficulties, and will receive a good deal of satisfaction, enjoyment, and personal growth.

Our schedule is very exact, and many people will be inconvenienced if we run late. Therefore, make it your responsibility to be in the proper place, at the right time, and with the appropriate dress. Persons we meet and interact with in Boston, in whatever capacity, will know our community, our school, and us, only by your actions. Therefore, be punctual, be neat in appearance, and be courteous and respectful to everyone. Follow the tour dress code EXACTLY. The daily schedule will tell you what you are to wear each day. School Rules and Regulations will apply always.

Stay with your group while we are touring the various sites in Boston. Be courteous to our chaperones, bus drivers, and tour escort. Be respectful of the property we will visit. No one will go off on their own (or leave the hotel) at any time outside of the scheduled tour activities. If a site does not interest you, be patient and courteous until we move to a site which does. Do not talk while the escort is explaining a site. Ask questions - this is how you will learn.

The arrangements for this tour have been most extensive. Koch Travel, along with your teachers, chaperones, administrators, and parents, have all contributed a great deal of time and energy to make this trip a worthwhile experience FOR YOU! Now it is your turn to use this opportunity to justify the pride these people have in our School and our Music Department.

HAVE A GREAT TRIP!

CLARENCE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Common Courtesies to FOLLOW

You are responsible for your own actions.
Be polite, respectful, and thankful to all.

Follow the guidelines set forth in this handbook.
Search information about the places we are visiting.

Never travel alone. Always be with a group.
Be patient, wait your turn, respect personal space.

Do not use any other transportation than that provided.
Double check each day's plans.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The rules and regulations that pertain to the Music Department and the Clarence Central School District are to be adhered to by all students participating in this trip.

It is the desire of the Music Department that this trip reflects a high level of commitment to a positive group activity. Therefore, in keeping with the policy of the Clarence Central Schools, possession or use of alcohol, tobacco, vaping devices, or illegal drugs is prohibited on a school sponsored trip. All other school rules also apply for this trip.

Violation of the school policies / rules and regulations will result in the following actions:

- Immediate suspension from the activity.
- Notification to parents and school administrators.
- Violator(s) will be sent home at the parent's expense (including the cost of the accompanying chaperone).
- Probable suspension from future activities with the Music Department.
- Disciplinary action will be taken by Mr. Kenneth Smith, Principal, upon return.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. No one will change hotel rooming assignments without the explicit permission of the teachers on the trip and this permission will not be granted except in the most unusual circumstances.

2. There will be no inter-room visitation in the hotel after the announced curfew. Students may never visit rooms of the opposite sex. Students in violation of this will be sent home. A referral will also be made to the administration for any further action that may be deemed inappropriate.

3. No one is to be out of their room past curfew and should remain there until the scheduled morning event.

4. Doors must be opened immediately upon the request of any chaperone BUT remember to get proper identification first.

5. Strict adherence to the dress code is required. Students will be sent back to change if they are not properly dressed. Please see the daily schedule for dress code instructions.

a. Tour Casual: Nicer appropriate school wear, comfortable walking shoes. (NO flannels or pajama pants.)
b. Casual: Normal, appropriate school wear with comfortable walking shoes. (Flannels and pajama pants are okay.)

6. No one will leave the hotels alone or in groups without permission.

7. Please be courteous of the other guests. Keep your voice very low in hallways and avoid roaming the halls. “Horseplay”, etc., in the hotel will not be tolerated.

8. Only music players with headphones are permitted on this tour.

9. The condition of the rooms in which we will be staying will be monitored very carefully by the hotel officials. Report any damage to one of our chaperones as soon as you check in. Otherwise you may have to pay for damage you did not cause. Any damages which occur in any room will be equally shared by all those assigned to that room. What was in the room, remains in the room. Towels are not souvenirs.

10. When traveling in a large group with students, stores tend to take extra measures to protect themselves from shoplifters. If this problem arises, violators will be prosecuted. This means that any kind of theft, whether jokingly or otherwise, will be dealt with seriously. This then becomes a problem for the Clarence Central School which means punishment and enforcement of school policy rules, not to mention embarrassment and shame upon the entire group activity.

11. Label all your suitcases, garment bags, etc. Try hard not to forget anything – it causes great inconvenience to others besides you.

12. Outside ordering of food (ex: Doordash) is strictly prohibited.

HOW TO SURVIVE A HOTEL FIRE

1. Know where the fire exits are.
Make sure they are open and know where they lead to. If they do not open, call security at once. Do this FIRST when you arrive at your hotel.

2. Know where your room key is at all times.
Keep it in an easily accessible place (ex. on your bed stand) so you can reach it if you wake up and find your room full of smoke.

3. At the first smell of smoke, call the fire department, not the desk.
Tell the fire department your room number.

4. Do not leave your room without checking the doorknob and the door.
If it is hot, do not open the door. If it is not hot, open the door slowly to check for smoke in the hallway. If there is a lot of smoke, cover your face with a wet towel and go to the fire exit. Stay near the floor where there is more oxygen. NEVER use the elevator and take your room key with you in case you must return.

5. If it is too smoky to go down the stairs, go all the way up to the roof.
One of the easiest and quickest ways of rescue is from the rooftop of the building.

6. If you must stay in your room, do not break the windows.
If there is smoke below, you may have to close them. Block all vents and door cracks with wet towels and sheets. If the walls become hot, use the ice bucket or anything available to throw water on them.

7. Avoid smoke inhalation by covering your face with a wet towel.
You will succumb to smoke inhalation long before fire reaches you.

8. Stay calm and do not panic.
Try to think clearly.

Quincy Market

quincy-market.com

Quincy Market is a historic market complex and food hall located at 206 S Market St in downtown Boston, adjacent to the famous Faneuil Hall. It is part of the larger Faneuil Hall Marketplace. The market, named for Mayor Josiah Quincy, was built in 1826 and is known for its wide variety of food vendors and shops.

Inside the main historic building, the "Food Colonnade" features over 30 food vendors offering diverse global and local cuisine. Options range from New England clam chowder and lobster rolls to pastries, sushi, burgers, and more.

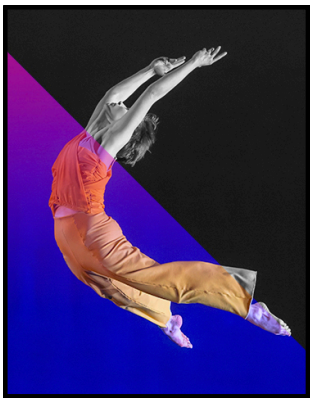

The marketplace has three main areas: the central Quincy Market building, the North Market and the South Market, two parallel buildings with a mix of shops, boutiques, and eateries.

In the outdoor plaza, street performers and live musicians create a lively, vibrant atmosphere.

Quincy Market is a hub of activity on Boston's Freedom Trail, a 2.5-mile path connecting the city's historic sites. Faneuil Hall, which was built in 1742 and played a key role in the American Revolution, is next to Quincy Market.

FOGO DE CHÃO

Boston's Authentic Brazilian Steakhouse Experience

Formerly the Boston Opera House. This beautiful opera house started life in 1928 as the B.F. Keith Memorial Theatre where it played movies and was also one of the best examples of a vaudeville palace on the circuit. From 1929 it operated solely as a movie palace until 1980, when it was acquired as a home for the Opera Company of Boston. Today it plays host to a variety of entertainment from opera and ballet, as well as staging the many Broadway productions that tour the country, making it one of the most successful venues in the city.
