On Thursday, Davies High School is hosting the final event in a series of ABLE Assemblies presented by TNT Kid's Fitness & Gymnastics designed to build school culture around inclusion, peer connection, and celebrating abilities of all students at Fargo Public Schools middle schools and high schools.

The ABLE Assemblies bring the school community together to recognize and uplift students of all abilities through movement, teamwork, and encouragement. At each of the assemblies, the student body is invited to attend and cheer on their peers as they compete in fun, adapted, ABLE-style relay race challenges. ABLE Assemblies have been held this February and March at North High School, Discovery Middle School, Carl Ben Eielson Middle School, and Ben Franklin Middle School prior to this Thursday's assembly at Davies.

The Davies ABLE Assembly will feature high-energy introductions where participants will walk out through a fog machine as their classmates cheer them on, the Davies pep band playing music to fire up the crowd and participants, an energetic live MC to pump up the crowd and provide live commentary, and guest judges from around the community will score the teams and decide the winners.

Guest judges include FPS Superintendent Dr. Cory Steiner, former NFL player and ABLE Games Founder Connor McGovern, WDAY anchor Dana Mogck, Davies School Resource Officer Andrew Dotas, Cass County Sherriff Jesse Jahner, Fargo Board of Education Member Greg Clark, Davies Restorative Practices Facilitator Yorrick Byers, Will Rivas of Gate City Bank, former South and Davies Hockey Coach Dean Wilson, and GiGi's Playhouse Executive Director Kira Knutson.

The ABLE Assemblies were built on the success of ABLE Games™ and were inspired by Connor McGovern and TNT to establish ABLE In School™. ABLE In School™ provides physical educators with online resources and tools designed to support all learners in their physical education classes.

ABLE allows students to experience inclusive opportunities during their school day through physical education. ABLE™ was intentionally designed to create meaningful moments where students of all abilities engage together in physical challenges while building cognitive, emotional, and social skills, as well as positive peer relationships.

By bringing ABLE's resources and tools to physical educators in the Fargo-Moorhead community, TNT Kid's Fitness & Gymnastics helps create inclusive learning environments where children of all abilities can learn, move, and thrive together.
