Trinity-Pawling LACROSSE

PHILOSOPHY

Trinity-Pawling's lacrosse program is designed to prepare each player for the challenges of college and life thereafter. Regular meetings and an ongoing dialogue with the coaching staff help to ensure that each boy is meeting his academic, athletic, and personal potential. In every conceivable way, Pride lacrosse players are prepared for the college ranks as students, players, and men of consequence.

HISTORY

In the past six years, 75 Trinity-Pawling student-athletes have moved on to top NCAA Division I, II, and III levels of college lacrosse. The Pride finished the 2016 season ranked in the top ten of USA Today's High School Sports Ranking, New England. The Pride has had 14 players named to the All-Founders League and All-Western New England teams.

LEAGUE

The Pride competes in the Founders League, which consists of Avon, Choate, Hotchkiss, Kent, Loomis, Taft, and Westminster. The Pride also plays in the very competitive New England West 1 Division against fellow members Deerfield, Salisbury, Brunswick, Berkshire, Northfield Mt. Hermon, and all Founders League members. Other rivals are Albany Academy, Frederick Gunn, Millbrook, and Canterbury.

FACILITIES

David N. Coratti Field, home of Trinity-Pawling lacrosse, is one of the top playing venues in New England with state-of-the-art lacrosse equipment, a full lifting program, and film and opponent scout study.
