About Me

I'm a 6th grader at Nathan Hale Middle School. I love many things, for instance my family, my friends, and sports. Both my parents are Italian so that makes me 100% Italian. I have two sisters, tons of cousins, 3 aunts, 3 uncles, 4 grandparents plus 1 great grandpa. In addition to my family, my friends are also very important to me. Furthermore I have a passion for soccer. I have been playing since I was 3 and I love my teammates, my coaches and the sport itself. My birthday is August 28th and my favorite place is Italy. Although I love Italy, I also enjoy other places. My family and I have traveled to various places, such as Disney World in Florida, LBI in New Jersey, Misquamicut Rhode Island, and lots more. Some of my goals in life are to get better at soccer and to get good grades in school. How I will accomplish these goals is by practicing soccer and paying attention in school more.

I am an Effective Communicator when I work well with others in partnerships and groups. When I work in partnerships and groups I listen to others carefully and add on to their ideas. Furthermore I express my ideas and support them with evidence and examples. I can rephrase my ideas to ensure others understand my point. In addition I can adjust how I share my ideas so that my point fits the purpose. When I demonstrate being a communicator I socialize with others a lot and I listen to others. Moreover I engage in the conversation and also ask and answer questions. Also I don't just act like I'm listening, I am respectful and let the other person express their thoughts. This attribute is important to me because being a communicator is a very important thing in life. It helps with socializing, building relationships, learning and growing, expressing your thoughts and feelings, resolving conflicts, and achieving goals. This is how I show I am being an effective communicator and a good communicator. To be a better communicator I can seek feedback, and have better written communication skills. The IB defines communicators as people who understand and express ideas and information confidently and creatively in more than one language and in a variety of modes of communication.

"Success is not final, failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts." — Winston Churchill
