

Helen Comellas is a native of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and a dedicated educator at Siembra Leadership High School. She earned a Bachelor's degree in American Studies, with a minor in History, from the University of New Mexico. Her academic background provides a strong foundation in cultural awareness and historical context, which she thoughtfully integrates into her work with students.

Ms. Comellas brings a passion for youth development and has focused her teaching on project-based learning, fostering student engagement, critical thinking, and real-world application of knowledge. Through her experience in the classroom, she has developed effective strategies to support diverse learning styles and create an inclusive, student-centered environment aligned with Siembra's mission.

In addition to her role as an educator, Ms. Comellas is an accomplished artist who actively paints and creates in her personal time. She incorporates her artistic perspective into her teaching approach, enriching the educational experience by encouraging creativity, self-expression, and innovative thinking among students.

Ms. Comellas is committed to supporting student growth, promoting equity in education, and contributing to a positive and inclusive school community in alignment with Albuquerque Public Schools compliance standards.
