

Ms. Nicole Goodman is a dedicated student support professional with a strong commitment to serving youth and families. Originally from Virginia, she developed a deep connection to New Mexico while earning her Master of Social Work from New Mexico State University.

Throughout her career, Ms. Goodman has worked in a variety of roles focused on family and youth support, including serving as a case worker, case manager, and parent educator. Her experience includes working with the New Mexico Children, Youth and Families Department, where she supported efforts to strengthen families and improve outcomes for children and adolescents.

At Siembra Leadership High School, Ms. Goodman is committed to creating a safe, supportive, and student-centered environment. She is passionate about working with teens and young adults, recognizing the importance of guidance, advocacy, and access to resources during critical stages of development.

Ms. Goodman values building strong relationships with students and families, ensuring each student feels seen, supported, and empowered to succeed.

Outside of her professional role, she enjoys traveling, spending time with family and friends, and supporting her alma mater, Norfolk State University, particularly during football and basketball seasons.
