Dr. Sonja Cherry-Paul

April 23
2:00-4:00
Bellingham High School Theater
for BPS educators (clock hours available)

Teach Black History All Year

Dr. Sonja Cherry-Paul brings to Bellingham Public Schools extensive professional development emphasizing Black history and the transferability of using a framework for designing instruction. Participants will deepen their understanding of antiracism while learning about Black American History including content about innovations, politics, arts, and solidarity. Strategies will be provided for approaching content that can be unsettling, as well as how to ensure instruction that is joyful and culturally affirming.

April 23
6:00-7:30
Bellingham High School Theater
Community Discussion with Dr. Sonja-Cherry Paul
FREE, ALL WELCOME!

Cultivating & Sustaining a Vision for Belonging

Belonging is central to everyone's well-being. Yet, limited attention to cultural, social, and political contexts within historically colonized settings hinder conditions that lead to a sense of belonging in communities and institutions, particularly for marginalized and minoritized groups.

This interactive discussion focuses on how relationships matter when cultivating spaces of belonging.

April 24
9:30-12:00
District Office 102/103

Co-Creating Equity: Leadership Lab

This interactive, drop-in workshop brings students and district leaders together to collaboratively tackle real-world challenges centered on racial equity in education. This program is designed for student leaders, building leaders, and community leaders. Advance registration required.

Bellingham Public Schools
a collective commitment

WHATCOM C·A·R·E
COALITION FOR ANTI-RACIST EDUCATION

MORE INFORMATION